2013 3RD QUARTER FORM 10-Q

CAUTIONARY NOTE REGARDING FORWARD-LOOKING STATEMENTS

This Combined Quarterly Report on Form 10-Q includes “forward-looking statements” about future events, circumstances, and results. All statements other than statements of historical fact included in this Combined Quarterly Report are forward-looking statements, including, without limitation, future capital expenditures; projections, including with respect to base revenue; business strategies; goals, beliefs, plans, and objectives; competitive strengths; market developments; development and operation of facilities; growth in sales volume; meeting capacity requirements, including through RFPs; expansion of service to existing customers and service to new customers; future environmental regulations and remediation liabilities; electric customer credits; and the anticipated outcome of various regulatory and legal proceedings. Although the Registrants believe that the expectations reflected in such forward-looking statements are reasonable, such forward-looking statements are based on numerous assumptions (some of which may prove to be incorrect) and are subject to risks and uncertainties that could cause the actual results to differ materially from the Registrants’ expectations. In addition to any assumptions and other factors referred to specifically in connection with these forward-looking statements, the following list identifies some of the factors that could cause the Registrants’ actual results to differ materially from those contemplated in any of the Registrants’ forward-looking statements:

factors affecting utility operations, such as unusual weather conditions or other natural phenomena; catastrophic weather-related damage (such as hurricanes and other storms or severe drought conditions); unscheduled generation outages; unanticipated maintenance or repairs; unanticipated changes to fuel costs, fuel supply costs or availability constraints due to higher demand, shortages, transportation problems, or other developments; fuel mix of Cleco’s generation facilities; decreased customer load; environmental incidents and compliance costs; and power transmission system constraints,

• Cleco Corporation’s holding company structure and its dependence on the earnings, dividends, or distributions from its subsidiaries to meet its debt obligations and pay dividends on its common stock,

• Cleco Power’s ability to maintain its right to sell wholesale generation at market-based rates within its control area,

• Cleco Power’s dependence on energy from sources other than its facilities and future sources of such additional energy,

• nonperformance by and creditworthiness of counterparties under power purchase agreements, or the restructuring of those agreements, including possible termination,

• nonperformance by and creditworthiness of the guarantor counterparty of the NMTC Fund,

• regulatory factors such as changes in rate-setting policies, recovery of investments made under traditional regulation,

• recovery of storm restoration costs, the frequency and timing of rate increases or decreases, the results of periodic

• NERC and LPSC audits, participation in an RTO and Cleco Power’s ability to recover related transmission upgrade costs, the compliance with the ERO reliability standards for bulk power systems by Cleco Power and Evangeline, and the change in market conditions resulting from MISO that could affect Cleco’s ability to create, maintain, and renew energy sales contracts with new and existing customers,

• reliance on third parties for determination of Cleco Power’s commitments and obligations to markets for generation resources and reliance on third party transmission services,

• financial or regulatory accounting principles or policies imposed by FASB, the SEC, the PCAOB, FERC, the LPSC, or similar entities with regulatory or accounting oversight,

• economic conditions, including the ability of customers to continue paying utility bills, related growth and/or

• down-sizing of businesses in Cleco’s service area, monetary fluctuations, changes in commodity prices, and inflation rates,

• the current global and U.S. economic environment, including the potential impact from the automatic reductions in

U.S. federal government spending that went into effect in the first quarter of 2013, known as sequestration, the partial

U.S. federal government shutdown in October 2013, and the ongoing debates related to the U.S. federal government budget and debt ceiling, credit ratings of Cleco Corporation and Cleco Power, ability to remain in compliance with debt covenants, changing market conditions and a variety of other factors associated with physical energy, financial transactions, and energy service activities, including, but not limited to, price, basis, credit, liquidity, volatility, capacity, transmission, interest rates, and warranty risks, the availability and use of alternative sources of energy and technologies, the imposition of energy efficiency requirements or increased conservation efforts of customers, reliability of Cleco Power's and Midstream's generating facilities, acts of terrorism, cyber attacks, data security breaches or other attempts to disrupt Cleco's business or the business of third parties, or other man-made disasters, availability or cost of capital resulting from changes in Cleco's business or financial condition, interest rates, or market perceptions of the electric utility industry and energy-related industries, changes in tax laws or disallowances of uncertain tax positions that may result in a change to tax benefits or expenses, employee work force factors, including work stoppages and changes in key executives, legal, environmental, and regulatory delays and other obstacles associated with mergers, acquisitions, reorganizations, investments in joint ventures, or other capital projects, including the AMI project and the transfer of Coughlin to Cleco Power,

CLECO POWER

2013 3RD QUARTER FORM 10-Q

• costs and other effects of legal and administrative proceedings, settlements, investigations, claims, and other matters,
• changes in federal, state, or local laws and changes in tax laws or rates, or regulating policies, the impact of current or future environmental laws and regulations, including those related to greenhouse gases and • energy efficiency that could limit or terminate the operation of certain generating units, increase costs, or reduce customer demand for electricity, • the ability of Cleco Power to recover from its customers the costs of compliance with environmental laws and regulations, including capital expenditures associated with MATS, and
• the ability of Dolet Hills lignite reserve to provide sufficient fuel to the Dolet Hills Power Station until at least 2026.

For more discussion of these factors and other factors that could cause actual results to differ materially from those contemplated in the Registrants' forward-looking statements, please read "Risk Factors" in this report and the Registrants' Combined Annual Report on Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2012. All subsequent written and oral forward-looking statements attributable to the Registrants or persons acting on their behalf are expressly qualified in their entirety by the factors identified above.

The Registrants undertake no obligation to update any forward-looking statements, whether as a result of cha
