Notes to Consolidated Financial Statements

1. Accounting Policies

The accompanying unaudited consolidated financial statements should be read in conjunction with the financial statement disclosures contained in our 2007 Form 10-K. The same accounting policies are followed in preparing quarterly financial data as are followed in preparing annual data. In the opinion of management, all adjustments necessary for a fair statement of quarterly operating results are reflected herein and are of a normal, recurring nature.

Due to the seasonal nature of our business, quarterly revenues, expenses, earnings and cash flows are not necessarily indicative of the results that may be expected for the full year.

During the first quarter of 2008 our Chief Executive Officer (CEO), Robert Ulrich, who was our chief operating decision maker (CODM) as defined in SFAS No. 131, Disclosure about Segments of an Enterprise and Related Information (SFAS 131), retired, and he was succeeded by Gregg Steinhafel. As a result of this change and in light of the anticipated sale of an undivided interest in approximately one-half of our credit card receivables, we reevaluated the provisions of SFAS 131. Based upon our review performed in the first quarter of 2008, we determined that we have two reportable segments, which reflects how our new CODM reviews our results in terms of allocating resources and assessing performance. These two reportable segments are based on our different products and services: Retail and Credit Card. As a result, prior period disclosures reflect the change in reportable segments. Refer to Note 12 for more information.

Our Retail Segment includes all of our merchandising operations, including our stores and our fully integrated online business. Our Credit Card Segment offers credit to qualified guests through our REDcard products, the Target Visa and the Target Card.

2. New Accounting Pronouncements

Future adoptions

In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 141(R), Business Combinations (SFAS 141(R)), which changes the accounting for business combinations and their effects on the financial statements. SFAS 141(R) will be effective at the beginning of fiscal 2009. The adoption of this statement is not expected to materially affect our consolidated net earnings, cash flows or financial position.

In December 2007, the FASB issued SFAS No. 160, Accounting and Reporting of Noncontrolling Interests in Consolidated Financial Statements, an amendment of ARB No. 51 (SFAS 160). SFAS 160 requires entities to report non-controlling interests in subsidiaries as equity in their consolidated financial statements. SFAS 160 will be effective at the beginning of fiscal 2009. The adoption of this statement is not expected to materially affect our consolidated net earnings, cash flows or financial position.

In March 2008, the FASB issued SFAS No. 161, Disclosures about Derivative Instruments and Hedging Activities, an amendment of FASB Statement No. 133 (SFAS 161). SFAS 161 requires enhanced disclosures about derivatives and hedging activities. SFAS 161 will be effective at the beginning of fiscal 2009. The adoption of this statement will not affect our consolidated net earnings, cash flows or financial position.

3. Cost of Sales and Selling, General and Administrative Expenses

During the first quarter of 2008, we reviewed our Consolidated Statements of Operations cost classification policy, primarily related to distribution and other supply chain costs that were previously classified within Selling, General & Administrative Expenses (SG&A). The review was prompted by changes within our supply chain processes and infrastructure, primarily the opening of our own food distribution network. As a result of this review, we have reclassified certain costs within our Consolidated Statements of Operations. The most significant change is that distribution center costs are now presented within cost of sales, as opposed to SG&A. We have reclassified all prior periods to conform to the current year presentation.

Edgar Filing: TARGET CORP - Form 10-Q

The following table illustrates the primary costs classified in each major expense category:

Cost of Sales

Total cost of products sold including:

- Freight expenses associated with moving merchandise from our vendors to our distribution centers and our retail stores, and among our distribution and retail facilities

- Vendor income that is not reimbursement of specific, incremental and identifiable costs

Inventory shrink

Markdowns

Outbound shipping and handling expenses associated with sales to our guests

Terms cash discount

Distribution center costs, including compensation and benefits costs

The classification of these expenses varies across the retail industry.

4. Earnings Per Share

Basic earnings per share (EPS) is net earnings divided by the weighted average number of common shares outstanding during the period. Diluted EPS includes the incremental shares assumed to be issued upon the exercise of stock options and the incremental shares assumed to be issued under performance share and restricted stock unit arrangements.

For the November 1, 2008 and November 3, 2007 computations, 13.7 million and 4.3 million stock options, respectively, were excluded from the calculation of weighted average shares for diluted EPS because their effects were antidilutive.

5. Cash Equivalents

We held cash equivalents (including money market investments) with market values of $397 million, $1,851 million and $2.5 million at November 1, 2008, February 2, 2008 and November 3, 2007, respectively. The market values of these investments are determined based upon quoted market prices (Level 1 inputs as defined by SFAS 157).

6. Credit Card Receivables

Edgar Filing: TARGET CORP - Form 10-Q

Credit card receivables are recorded net of an allowance for expected losses. The allowance, recognized in an amount equal to anticipated future write-offs, was $765 million at November 1, 2008, $570 million at February 2, 2008 and $532 million at November 3, 2007. We estimate future write-offs based on delinquencies, risk scores, aging trends, industry risk trends and our historical experience. Substantially all accounts continue to accrue finance charges until they are written off. Total receivables past due ninety days or more and still accruing finance charges were $336 million at November 1, 2008, $235 million at February 2, 2008 and $197 million at November 3, 2007. Accounts are written off when they become 180 days past due.

As a method of providing funding for our accounts receivable, we sell on an ongoing basis all of our consumer credit card receivables to Target Receivables Corporation (TRC), a wholly owned, bankruptcy-remote subsidiary. TRC then transfers the receivables to the Target Credit Card Master Trust (the Trust), which from time to time will sell debt securities to third parties either directly or through a related trust. These debt securities represent undivided interests in the Trust assets. TRC uses the proceeds from the sale of debt securities and its share of collections on the receivables to pay the purchase price of the receivables to Target.

In the second quarter of 2008, we sold a 47% interest in our credit card receivables to an affiliate of JPMorgan Chase. This transaction was accounted for as a secured borrowing. The accounting guidance for such transactions, SFAS No. 140, Accounting for Transfers and Servicing of Financial Assets and Extinguishments of Liabilities (a replacement of SFAS No. 125), requires the inclusion of the receivables within the trust and any debt securities issued by the trust or a related trust in our Consolidated Statements of Financial Position. Notwithstanding this accounting treatment, the receivables transferred to the trust are not available to general creditors of Target. Upon termination of the securitization program and repayment of all debt securities issued from time to time by the trust, or a related trust, any remaining assets could be distributed to Target in a liquidation of TRC. The payments to JPMorgan Chase are made solely from the assets of the trust and are nonrecourse to the general assets of Target.

7. Contingencies

Edgar Filing: TARGET CORP - Form 10-Q

We are exposed to claims and litigation arising in the ordinary course of business and use various methods to resolve these matters in a manner that we believe serves the best interest of our shareholders and other constituents. We believe the recorded reserves in our consolidated financial statements are adequate in light of the probable and estimable liabilities. We do not believe that any of the currently identified claims or litigation will materially affect our results of operations, cash flows or financial condition.

8. Debt and Derivative Financial Instruments

Edgar Filing: TARGET CORP - Form 10-Q

We obtain short-term financing from time to time under our commercial paper program, a form of notes payable. Notes payable under this program totaled $1,382 million and $578 million at November 1, 2008 and November 3, 2007, respectively, and are included in current portion of unsecured debt and other borrowings on the Consolidated Statement of Financial Position. There were no amounts outstanding under our commercial paper program at February 2, 2008.

Our derivative instruments primarily consist of interest rate swaps that hedge the fair value of certain debt by effectively converting interest from a fixed rate to a floating rate. The majority of these instruments qualify for hedge accounting, and the associated assets and liabilities are recorded in the Consolidated Statements of Financial Position. The changes in market value of an interest rate swap, as well as the offsetting change in market value of the hedged debt, are recognized within earnings in the current period. Ineffectiveness would result when changes in the market value of the hedged debt were not completely offset by changes in the market value of the interest rate swap. At the end of the third quarter of 2008, we had three interest rate swaps designated as hedges of fixed rate borrowings, with aggregate notional amounts of $950 million, and there was no ineffectiveness recognized related to these swaps during the three and nine months ended November 1, 2008 and November 3, 2007. At the end of the third quarter of 2008, we also held two $500 million notional amount interest rate swaps that were not designated as hedges. During the quarter, we recorded a net mark-to-market loss of $0.9 million related to these swaps.

During the first quarter of 2008, we terminated interest rate swaps with a combined notional amount of $3,125 million for cash proceeds of $160 million, which are classified within other operating cash flows in the Consolidated Statements of Cash Flows. Additionally, in lieu of terminating one other interest rate swap, we entered into an interest rate swap with a notional amount of $500 million that is intended to economically realize the value of the existing swap (these two swaps are referred to in the last sentence of the preceding paragraph). All of these previously existing swaps were designated as hedges, and concurrent with the first quarter 2008 transactions, we were required to stop making market value adjustments to the associated hedged debt. As a result of these transactions, each previously hedged borrowing is now being amortized to par value over its remaining life. During fiscal 2008, we expect to amortize approximately $49 million of these hedged debt valuation adjustments into earnings as a reduction of interest expense $42 million related to the terminated interest rate swaps and $7 million related to the previously existing swap that is no longer being accounted for as a hedge. Of the $49 million reduction to interest expense that will be recorded in 2008, $13 million was recognized in the third quarter and $37 million was recognized during the nine months ended November 1, 2008.

Unamortized hedged debt valuation gains from terminated and de-designated interest rate swaps totaled $206 million at November 1, 2008 and $15 million as of November 3, 2007.

In the first quarter of 2008, we adopted SFAS 157 for financial assets and liabilities. SFAS 157 defines fair value, establishes a framework for measuring fair value in generally accepted accounting principles, and expands disclosures about fair value measurements. For assets and liabilities measured at fair value on a recurring basis, the reporting entity must disclose information that enables users of its financial statements to assess the inputs used to develop those measurements. Our interest rate swaps are recorded at fair value, and they are defined as Level 2 assets and liabilities because their fair value is measurable using inputs other than quoted prices that are observable (for example, interest rates and yield curves observable at commonly quoted intervals). At November 1, 2008, February 2, 2008 and November 3, 2007, interest rate swaps were outstanding in notional amounts totaling $1,950 million, $4,575 million and $4,575 million, respectively. The market value of these outstanding interest rate swaps were assets of $88 million, $223 million and $64 million at November 1, 2008, February 2, 2008 and November 3, 2007, respectively.

9. Income Taxes

We file a U.S. federal income tax return and income tax returns in various states and foreign jurisdictions. With few exceptions, we are no longer subject to U.S. federal, state and local or non-U.S. income tax examinations by tax authorities for years before 1998.

We accrue for the effects of open uncertain tax positions and the related potential penalties and interest. There were no material adjustments to our recorded liability for unrecognized tax benefits during the three and nine months ended November 1, 2008. It is reasonably possible that the amount of the unrecognized tax benefit with respect to certain of our unrecognized tax positions will increase or decrease during the next 12 months; however, we do not expect the change to have a significant effect on our consolidated results of operations or financial position.

10. Share Repurchase

During the quarter ended November 1, 2008, we repurchased 2.5 million shares of our common stock, for a total cash investment of $140 million (average price per share of $54.93), and for the nine months ended November 1, 2008, we repurchased 66.8 million shares of our common stock, for a total cash investment of $3,380 million (average price per share of $50.54). Included in the total cash investment in the three and nine months ended November 1, 2008 were prior period cash outlays of $140 million and $453 million, respectively. Since the inception of our current share repurchase program, which began in the fourth quarter of 2007, we have repurchased 93.3 million shares of our common stock, for a total cash investment of $4,826 million (average price per share of $51.70).

Our share repurchases during the nine months ended November 1, 2008, included 30 million shares that were acquired through the exercise of call options.

All the shares reacquired during the quarter ended November 1, 2008 were delivered upon settlement of prepaid forward contracts. The prepaid forward contracts settled during the quarter had a total cash investment of $140 million and an aggregate market value of $143 million at their respective settlement dates.

At November 1, 2008, we held long positions in prepaid forward contracts for 2.3 million shares of our common stock, for a total cash investment of $95 million, or an average price per share of $41.11.

In light of our current business outlook, in November 2008 we announced a temporary suspension of our open-market share repurchase program.

11. Pension, Postretirement Health Care and Other Benefits

Edgar Filing: TARGET CORP - Form 10-Q

We have qualified defined benefit pension plans covering all U.S. employees who meet age and service requirements. We also have unfunded, nonqualified pension plans for team members with qualified plan compensation restrictions. Benefits are provided based on years of service and team member compensation. Upon retirement, team members also become eligible for certain health care benefits if they meet minimum age and service requirements and agree to contribute a portion of the cost.

We also maintain nonqualified, unfunded deferred compensation plans for approximately 4,000 current and retired team members whose participation in our 401(k) plan is limited by statute or regulation. These team members choose from a menu of crediting rate alternatives that are the same as the investment choices in our 401(k) plan, including Target common stock. We credit an additional 2 percent per year to the accounts of all active participants who are not executive officers, in part to recognize the risks inherent to their participation in a plan of this nature. We also maintain a nonqualified, unfunded deferred compensation plan that was frozen during 1996, covering 13 current and 50 retired participants. In this plan, deferred compensation earns returns tied to market levels of interest rates plus an additional 6 percent return, with a minimum of 12 percent and a maximum of 20 percent, as determined by the plan's terms.

We control some of our risk of offering the nonqualified plans by investing in vehicles that offset a substantial portion of our economic exposure to the returns of the plans. These investment vehicles include company owned life insurance on approximately 4,000 highly compensated team members who have given their consent to be insured and prepaid forward contracts in our own common stock. The fair value of these assets was as follows:

Nonqualified Plan-Related Investments (millions)	Nov. 1, 2008	Feb. 2, 2008	Nov. 3, 2007
Company owned life insurance (a)	$ 438	$ 578	$ 581
Prepaid forward contracts (b)	86	128	142
Total	$ 524	$ 706	$ 723

(a) Company owned life insurance investments largely comprise investments in index funds and other investments. The market values of these investments are determined based upon quoted market prices (Level 1 inputs as defined by SFAS 157). The amounts are shown net of loans that are secured by some of these policies. The loan balances were $441 million, $379 million, and $380 million as of November 1, 2008, February 2, 2008 and November 3, 2007, respectively.

(b) The values of prepaid forward contracts are determined by reference to the market prices of Target common stock (Level 2 inputs as defined by SFAS 157).

All of these investments are general corporate assets that are marked-to-market with the related gains and losses recognized in the Consolidated Statements of Operations in the period they occur. The gains and losses recognized on these investments effectively offset the gains and losses associated with the returns earned by participants in our deferred compensation plans. These amounts include the change in fair value of the prepaid forward contracts indexed to our own common stock recorded in earnings as a pre-tax gain of $29 million and $1 million for the three months ended November 1, 2008 and November 3, 2007, respectively, and a pre-tax gain/(loss) of $(2) million and $7 million for the nine months ended November 1, 2008 and November 3, 2007, respectively. For the nine months ended November 1, 2008 and November 3, 2007, we invested approximately $207 million and $127 million, respectively, in prepaid forward contracts in our own common stock, and these investments are included in the Consolidated Statement of Cash Flows within other investing activities. Adjusting our position in these investment vehicles may involve repurchasing shares of Target common stock when settling the forward contracts.

During the quarter ended November 1, 2008, we settled outstanding prepaid forward contracts and received 2.5 million shares of our common stock. By November 1, 2008, these contracts were replaced with prepaid forward contracts for 2.3 million shares of our own common stock for a cash investment of $95 million (average price per share of $41.11). The terms of the new contracts significantly reduce the counterparty credit risk associated with these agreements.

12. Segment Reporting

Prior to 2008, we operated as a single business segment. As described in Note 1, the change in our chief operating decision maker has resulted in a change to our reportable segments.

The accounting policies of the operating segments are the same as those described in Note 1.

Our measure of segment profitability for each segment is a measure that management considers analytically useful in measuring the return we are achieving on our investment in each segment.

Item 2. Management's Discussion and Analysis of Financial Condition and Results of Operations

Analysis of Results of Operations

Edgar Filing: TARGET CORP - Form 10-Q

Total revenues for the three and nine months ended November 1, 2008 were $15,114 million and $45,388 million, respectively, compared with $14,835 million and $43,496 million, respectively, for the same periods last year, an increase of 1.9 percent and 4.4 percent, respectively.

Net earnings for the three and nine months ended November 1, 2008 were $369 million, or $0.49 per share, and $1,605 million and $2.06 per share, respectively, compared with $483 million, or $0.56 per share, and $1,821 million and $2.11 per share, respectively, for the same periods last year. All earnings per share figures refer to diluted earnings per share.

As described in Notes 1 and 12, we changed our reportable business segments in the first quarter of 2008. Additionally, as described in Note 3, we changed our cost classification policy with respect to certain supply chain costs.

Sales

Sales include merchandise sales, net of expected returns, from our stores and our online business, as well as gift card breakage. Total sales for the Retail Segment for the quarter were $14,588 million, compared with $14,342 million for the same period a year ago, an increase of 1.7% percent. For the nine month period ending November 1, 2008, total sales for the Retail Segment were $43,861 million, compared with $42,132 million for the same period a year ago, an increase of 4.1 percent. Total sales growth in the Retail Segment was positively impacted by our new stores, somewhat offset by a decline in comparable-store sales.

Comparable-store sales is a measure that indicates the performance of our existing stores by measuring the growth in sales for such stores for a period over the comparable, prior-year period of equivalent length. The method of calculating comparable store sales varies across the retail industry. As a result, our calculation of comparable store sales is not necessarily comparable to similarly titled measures reported by other companies.

Edgar Filing: TARGET CORP - Form 10-Q

Comparable-store sales are sales from our online business and sales from general merchandise and SuperTarget stores open longer than one year, including:

- sales from stores that have been remodeled or expanded while remaining open
- sales from stores that have been relocated to new buildings of the same format within the same trade area, in which the new store opens at about the same time as the old store closes

Comparable-store sales do not include:

- sales from general merchandise stores that have been converted, or relocated within the same trade area, to a SuperTarget store format
- sales from stores that were intentionally closed to be remodeled, expanded or reconstructed

Comparable-Store Sales	Three Months Ended		Nine Months Ended
	Nov. 1, 2008	Nov. 3, 2007	Nov. 1, 2008	Nov. 3, 2007
Comparable-store sales	(3.3)%	3.7%	(1.5)%	4.3%
Effect of transactions on comparable store sales:
Number of transactions	(3.6)%	1.3%	(2.5)%	1.0%
Average transaction amount	0.3 %	2.5%	1.0 %	3.0%
Units per transaction	(1.5)%	0.9%	(1.3)%	1.1%
Dollars per unit	1.8 %	1.6%	2.3 %	1.9%

In fiscal 2008, the decline in comparable store sales was driven by a decline in the number of transactions, partially offset by an increase in average transaction amount, which reflects the effect of a decrease in number of units per transaction partially offset by higher dollars per unit within the transactions.

Transaction-level metrics are influenced by a broad array of macroeconomic, competitive and consumer behavioral factors, and comparable-store sales rates are impacted by transfer of sales to new stores.

Gross Margin Rate

Gross margin rate represents gross margin (sales less cost of sales) as a percentage of sales. See Note 3 for a description of expenses included in cost of sales. In the third quarter of 2008, our gross margin rate was 30.6 percent compared with 30.0 percent in the same period last year, driven by increases in gross margin rates within categories that benefitted the rate (approximately 1.0 percent), partially offset by the mix impact of faster sales growth in lower margin rate categories (approximately 0.4 percent). Rate improvement within categories during the quarter was driven partly by an array of inventory control initiatives that minimized markdowns and by a favorable supply chain expense rate (0.2 percent), about half of which was driven by improved workers compensation expenses. For the nine months ended November 1, 2008, our gross margin rate was 30.8 percent, unchanged from the same period last year. While our year-to-date gross margin rate was flat, we experienced increases in gross margin rates within categories that benefitted the rate (approximately 0.6 percent) that were entirely offset by the mix impact of faster sales growth in lower margin rate categories (approximately 0.6 percent). The same factors that drove changes in our quarterly gross margin rate affected our year-to-date gross margin rate, except that the changes in sales mix on the gross margin rate fully offset the factors driving rate improvements within merchandise categories.

Selling, General and Administrative Expense Rate

Our selling, general and administrative (SG&A) expense rate represents SG&A expenses as a percentage of sales. See Note 3 for a description of expenses included in SG&A expense. SG&A expenses exclude depreciation and amortization. In the third quarter of 2008 and 2007, our SG&A expense rate was 22.1 percent. For the nine months ended November 1, 2008, our SG&A rate was 21.3 percent compared with 21.5 percent in the same period last year. We were able to achieve these essentially flat expense rates due to continued productivity gains in our stores and disciplined control of expenses across the company.

Depreciation and Amortization Expense Rate

Edgar Filing: TARGET CORP - Form 10-Q

Our depreciation and amortization expense rate represents depreciation and amortization expense as a percentage of sales. In the third quarter of 2008, our depreciation and amortization expense rate was 3.2 percent compared with 3.0 percent for the same period last year. For the nine months ended November 1, 2008, our depreciation and amortization expense rate was 3.1 percent compared with 2.9 percent for the same period last year. The rate unfavorability resulted from sales growing at a slower pace than capital expenditures.

Store Data

During the quarter, we opened 45 new stores, including 37 general merchandise stores (28 net of store closings) and 8 SuperTarget stores.

Credit Card Segment

We offer credit to qualified guests through our REDcard products, the Target Visa and the Target Card. Our credit card program strategically supports our core retail operations and remains an important contributor to our overall profitability. Our credit card revenues are comprised of finance charges, late fees and other revenues. The substantial majority of credit card receivables earn finance charge revenues at rates tied to the Prime Rate. In addition, we receive fees from merchants who accept the Target Visa credit card.

We measure the performance of our overall credit card receivables portfolio by calculating the dollar spread to LIBOR at the portfolio level. Our primary measure of profitability in our Credit Card Segment is the EBIT generated by our total credit card receivables portfolio less the interest expense on nonrecourse debt collateralized by credit card receivables. We analyze this measure of profit in light of the amount of capital Target has invested in our credit card receivables. At the portfolio level, the decline in dollar spread to LIBOR is almost entirely due to increased bad debt expense, resulting from higher current period write-offs and additions to the reserve for anticipated future write-offs of current receivables. In addition, our Credit Card Segment profitability was also affected by finance charge yield pressure from the impact of reductions in the prime rate and higher interest expense resulting from increased third-party funding of our receivables in 2008, as compared with 2007.

Average receivables in the third quarter increased 19.4 percent to approximately $8,745 million from approximately $7,324 million at the end of the 2007 third quarter. Average receivables in the nine months ended November 1, 2008 increased 24.0 percent to approximately $8,568 million from approximately $6,908 million in the nine months ended November 3, 2007.

In part, the growth in receivables is the annualized impact from last year's product change from proprietary Target Cards to Target Visa cards for a group of higher credit-quality Target Card Guests. A product change to a Target Visa card generally results in a higher receivables balance because it can be used for purchases outside of Target stores and has a higher credit limit. Accounts converted from a Target Card to a Target Visa accounted for approximately 15 percentage points of the growth in average receivables. The remainder of the growth was primarily due to lower payment rates on accounts, offset by lower charge activity across all segments of the portfolio.

As a result of domestic economic conditions and the related impact on the performance of the overall portfolio, including increased bad debt expense and growth of past due receivable amounts from prior period levels, we have adjusted our risk management controls on portfolio underwriting, including decreasing the number of new accounts that are opened, decreasing the average credit lines associated with the accounts, and engaging in proactive collection activities.

Other Performance Factors

Net interest expense was $234 million and $652 million, for the three and nine month periods ended November 1, 2008, respectively, a $58 million and $185 million increase from the three and nine months ended November 3, 2007, reflecting significantly higher debt balances supporting capital investment, share repurchase and the receivables portfolio, partially offset by lower average debt portfolio interest rates.

Our effective tax rate for the third quarter of 2008 was 41.7 percent compared with 38.1 percent for the third quarter of 2007. The increase in the effective rate between benchmark periods primarily resulted from negative capital market returns on company owned life insurance investments. We use these investments to economically hedge market risk in our deferred compensation plans. Returns on company owned life insurance investments are not taxable. In the third quarter of 2008, we incurred losses related to capital market returns from company owned life insurance investments as compared to gains from these investments in the third quarter of 2007. The losses in the third quarter of 2008 resulted in a lower amount of non-taxable income than in the third quarter of 2007. This resulted in a higher effective tax rate for the third quarter of 2008 as compared to the third quarter of 2007. Future periods' tax rates will be directly affected by capital market returns in those periods. The year-to-date effective tax rate slightly decreased to 38.1 percent in 2008 from 38.5 percent in 2007.

Accumulated other comprehensive income/(loss) may be adversely impacted at the end of our fiscal year as a result of the non-cash remeasurement of the plan assets and benefit obligations required under SFAS No. 158, "Employers' Accounting for Defined Benefit Pension and

Analysis of Financial Condition

Liquidity and Capital Resources

Our financial condition remains strong. In assessing our financial condition, we consider factors such as cash flows provided by operations, capital expenditures and debt service obligations. We continue to fund our growth through a combination of internally-generated funds and debt financing, including notes payable under our commercial paper program. We funded our 2008 peak sales season working capital needs through our commercial paper program, consistent with prior years and without any funding disruptions. Notes payable under our commercial paper program totaled $1,382 million and $578 million at November 1, 2008 and November 3, 2007, respectively.

Gross credit card receivables at quarter end were $8,764 million compared with $7,652 million at the end of the third quarter 2007, an increase of 14.5 percent. Inventory at quarter end was $9,050 million compared with $8,746 million at the end of third quarter 2007, an increase of 3.5 percent, reflecting the natural increase required to support additional square footage and sales growth.

Capital expenditures for the nine months ended November 1, 2008 were $2,827 million, compared with $3,418 million for the same period a year ago. This decrease was driven by lower capital expenditures for new stores, remodels and technology-related assets. In light of the current operating environment, we have fewer opportunities to productively invest capital and have reduced our forecasted capital expenditures for 2009 to levels below prior periods.

During the quarter ended November 1, 2008, we repurchased 2.5 million shares of our common stock. The cash investment of $140 million ($54.93 per share) related to these shares was a prior period outlay. Since the inception of our current share repurchase program, which began in the fourth quarter of 2007, we have repurchased 93.3 million shares of our common stock, for a total cash investment of $4,826 million ($51.70 per share). Refer to Note 10 for additional information.

In light of our current business outlook, in November 2008 we announced a temporary suspension of open-market share repurchase program.

As described in Note 6, we sold a 47 percent undivided interest in our credit card receivables for approximately $3.6 billion during the second quarter of 2008.

Outlook for Fiscal Year 2008

The increasing financial challenges and economic uncertainty facing U.S. households as well as increased competitive pressure are expected to continue to negatively influence our performance for the remainder of the 2008 fiscal year.

In our Retail Segment, our sales performance in the fourth quarter is expected to be adversely impacted by the current economic environment and a compressed holiday season due to fewer days between Thanksgiving and Christmas. Despite conservative inventory management and tight expense control, this weak sales outlook is expected to pressure fourth quarter gross margin and expense rates and result in a moderate decline in fourth quarter operating margin rate from 2007. It is our expectation that comparable-store sales in the fourth quarter will be lower than the third quarter, and the range of possible outcomes is broad.

In our Credit Card Segment, we expect to end the year with receivables up to 10 percent higher than 2007, reflecting typical seasonal growth and the annualization of last year's product change. We expect our fourth quarter annualized net write-off rate to be in the range of 10 to 11 percent, resulting in a full-year net write-off rate slightly above 9 percent. As the full benefit of terms changes are realized in the fourth quarter, our key overall measure of portfolio performance, spread to LIBOR, and our key measure at the segment level, pre-tax ROIC, are anticipated to be around or slightly above our third quarter levels.

We expect that there will continue to be variability between our individual quarterly and full-year effective tax rates as tax uncertainties arise and are resolved. For the full year 2008, we expect an effective tax rate in the range of 38.0 to 38.5 percent.

Forward-Looking Statements

This report contains forward-looking statements, which are based on our current assumptions and expectations. These statements are typically accompanied by the words expect, may, could, believe, would, might, anticipates, or words of similar import. The forward-looking statements in this report include: the anticipated impact of new accounting pronouncements; the adequacy of our reserves in light of the expected outcome of litigation and tax uncertainties; the impact to accumulated other comprehensive income / (loss) for the remeasurement of plan assets and benefit obligations; the amortization of hedged debt valuation adjustments; for our Retail Segment, our outlook for sales, operating margin rate, comparable-store sales, gross margin rate, and depreciation expense; for our Credit Card Segment, our outlook for year-end receivable balances, net write-off rates, dollar spread to LIBOR, and pretax segment ROIC; and our expectations with respect to our full-year effective tax rates.

All such forward-looking statements are intended to enjoy the protection of the safe harbor for forward-looking statements contained in the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, as amended. Although we believe there is a reasonable basis for the forward-looking statements, our actual results could be materially different. The most important factors which could cause our actual results to differ from our forward-looking statements are set forth on our description of risk factors on Exhibit (99)A to this Form 10-Q, which should be read in conjunction with the forward-looking statements in this report. Forward-looking statements speak only as of the date they are made, and we do not undertake any obligation to update any forward-looking statement.

Item 3. Quantitative and Qualitative Disclosures About Market Risk

There have been no material changes in our primary risk exposures or management of market risks from those disclosed in our Form 10-K for the fiscal year ended February 2, 2008.

Item 4. Controls and Procedures

As of the end of the period covered by this quarterly report, we conducted an evaluation, under supervision and with the participation of management, including the chief executive officer and chief financial officer, of the effectiveness of the design and operation of our disclosure controls and procedures pursuant to Rules 13a-15 and 15d-15 of the Securities Exchange Act of 1934, as amended (Exchange Act). Based upon that evaluation, our chief executive officer and chief financial officer concluded that our disclosure controls and procedures are effective. Disclosure controls and procedures are defined by Rules 13a-15(e) and 15d-15(e) of the Exchange Act as controls and other procedures that are designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) under the Exchange Act is recorded, processed, summarized and reported within the time periods specified in the SEC's rules and forms. Disclosure controls and procedures include, without limitation, controls and procedures designed to ensure that information required to be disclosed by us in reports filed under the Exchange Act is accumulated and communicated to our management, including our principal executive and principal financial officers, or persons performing similar functions, as appropriate to allow timely decisions regarding required disclosure.

There were no changes in our internal control over financial reporting during the most recently completed fiscal quarter that have materially affected, or are reasonably likely to materially affect, our internal control over financial reporting.

PART II. OTHER INFORMATIONItem 1. Legal Proceedings

Target is a defendant in a civil lawsuit filed by the California Attorney General in October 2008 alleging that it sold certain products that contained volatile organic compounds in excess of regulated limits (windshield washer fluid and air fresheners), and other products that were not approved for sale in California (gas cans and gas generators). The case is in its early stages and settlement discussions are continuing. We anticipate that any resolution of this matter is likely to exceed $100,000.

For a description of legal proceedings see Note 7.

The American Jobs Creation Act of 2004 requires SEC registrants to disclose if they have been required to pay certain penalties for failing to disclose to the Internal Revenue Service their participation in listed transactions. We have not been required to pay any of the penalties set forth in Section 6707A(e)(2) of the Internal Revenue Code.

Item 1A. Risk Factors

A description of risk factors and cautionary statements relating to forward looking information is included in Exhibit 99 (A) to our Form 10-Q for the quarter ended November 1, 2008, which is incorporated herein by reference.

Item 2. Unregistered Sales of Equity Securities and Use of Proceeds

The following table presents information with respect to purchases of Target common stock made during the quarter ended November 1, 2008, by Target or any affiliated purchaser of Target, as defined in Rule 10b-18(a)(3) under the Exchange Act.

Edgar Filing: TARGET CORP - Form 10-Q

In November 2007, our Board of Directors authorized the repurchase of $10 billion of our common stock. Since the inception of this share repurchase program, we have repurchased a total of 93.3 million shares of our common stock for a total cash investment of $4,826 million ($51.70 per share). In light of our current business outlook, in November 2008 we announced a temporary suspension of our open-market share repurchase program.

The table above includes shares of common stock reacquired from team members who wish to tender owned shares to satisfy the tax withholding on equity awards as part of our long-term incentive plans or to satisfy the exercise price on stock option exercises. In the third quarter of 2008, no such shares were acquired.

The table above includes shares reacquired upon settlement of prepaid forward contracts. For the three months ended November 1, 2008, 2.5 million shares were reacquired through these contracts. At November 1, 2008, we held long positions in prepaid forward contracts for 2.3 million shares of our common stock, for a total cash investment of $95 million, or $41.11 per share.
