Item 8.01. Other Events

IBM senior executives are meeting with investors at conferences this week, and are prepared to provide the following information, which is hereby filed:

- The company expects to end the year with a non-financing (core) debt level that is fairly consistent with year-end 2013, though the core debt-to-cap ratio will be up year to year. This expected year-end debt level would be approximately one billion dollars higher than the balance at the end of 2007, which is the year the company added debt to the capital structure of the non-financing business.

These materials may contain forward looking statements under the Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995, which statements involve numerous factors that could cause actual results to differ materially. Additional information about those factors is contained in IBM's filings with the SEC, available from the SEC, IBM's web site or IBM's Investor Relations.

IBM's web site (www.ibm.com) contains a significant amount of information about IBM, including financial and other information for investors (www.ibm.com/investor/). IBM encourages investors to visit its various web sites from time to time, as information is updated and new information is posted.
