Baidu Announces Second Quarter 2006 Results

Significant Growth in Customer Base and User Traffic

Drives Strong Revenue and Earnings

BEIJING, China, July 26, 2006 Baidu.com, Inc. (NASDAQ: BIDU), the leading Chinese language Internet search provider, today announced its unaudited financial results for the quarter ended June 30, 2006¹.

Second Quarter 2006 Highlights

Total revenues increased by 41.3% sequentially or 174.9% year-over-year to RMB191.6 million ($24.0 million).

Net income increased by 65.9% sequentially or 385.2% year-over-year to RMB58.5 million ($7.3 million). Basic and diluted earnings per share (EPS) were RMB1.76 ($0.22) and RMB1.69 ($0.21), respectively.

Net income excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) was RMB70.2 million (US$8.8 million). Basic and diluted EPS excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) were RMB2.11 ($0.26) and RMB2.03 ($0.25), respectively.

The number of active online marketing customers grew to more than 90,000, an increase of 21.6% from the previous quarter.

We are very pleased Baidu has maintained the revenue growth momentum and achieved another quarter of excellent results, said Robin Li, Baidu's Chairman and CEO. Our focus on providing the best user experience continues to drive traffic growth and our expanded sales force contributed to a substantial boost to our active customer base.

Our community-based search products, including Baidu Post Bar, Baidu Knows and Baidupedia, have become increasingly popular because they make users stay connected while searching online. In July, we launched Baidu Space which allows users to create personalized homepages on Baidu and integrate their use of other Baidu search products in one place. We will continue to develop products tailored to user needs to ensure that Baidu remains the search engine of choice in China, added Robin Li.

Our active customer base grew significantly in the second quarter as we expanded our sales force and awareness of Baidu's pay-for-performance services continued to spread, said Shawn Wang, Baidu's CFO. In addition to customer base expansion, further optimization in monetization algorithm also contributed to strong revenue growth.

The scalability of our business was once again demonstrated by margin increase during the quarter while we continued to invest heavily in the fundamental growth drivers of our business to facilitate long term sustainable growth, Mr. Wang continued.

Second Quarter 2006 Results

Baidu reported total revenues of RMB191.6 million ($24.0 million) for the quarter ended June 30, 2006, representing a 41.3% increase from the previous quarter and a 174.9% increase from the corresponding period in 2005.

Online marketing revenues for the second quarter were RMB189.1 million ($23.7 million), representing a 43.2% increase from the first quarter of 2006 and a 183.3% increase from the second quarter of 2005. The growth was driven by the increase in the number of active online marketing customers, which increased by 21.6% from the first quarter of 2006 to more than 90,000 for the second quarter. Customer expansion was driven by expansion of the direct sales force and the increased effectiveness of the Company's direct sales offices and distributor network. Revenue per online marketing customer for the second quarter increased to RMB2,081 ($260.3) from RMB1,774, a sequential increase of 19.3%.

Traffic acquisition cost (TAC) as a component of cost of revenues was RMB17.6 million ($2.2 million), representing 9.2% of total revenues, compared to 9.1% in the first quarter of 2006. TAC remained largely unchanged as a percentage of revenues.

Selling, general and administrative expenses for the second quarter were RMB58.7 million ($7.3 million), representing an increase of 16.7% from the previous quarter and an increase of 110.1% from the second quarter of 2005.

Research and development expenses were RMB18.3 million ($2.3 million), representing a 17.5% sequential increase and a 111.3% increase from the corresponding period in 2005, primarily due to headcount increase.

Share-based compensation expenses, which were allocated to related expense line items, decreased in aggregate to RMB11.7 million ($1.5 million) in the second quarter of 2006 from RMB12.8 million in the previous quarter.

For the full year, we expect share-based compensation expenses for awards granted to employees prior to July 1, 2006 to be RMB37.6 million. This amount does not include expenses to be recognized over the remainder of the year related to awards granted to employees after July 1, 2006 or awards granted to non-employees that have been or may be granted.

Operating profit was RMB58.0 million ($7.3 million), representing a 115.4% increase from the first quarter of 2006 and a 384.7% increase from the second quarter of 2005. Operating profit excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) was RMB69.7 million ($8.7 million) for the second quarter of 2006, a 75.4% increase from the previous quarter and a 284.5% increase from the corresponding period in 2005.

Net income was RMB58.5 million ($7.3 million), representing a 65.9% increase from the previous quarter and a 385.2% increase from the second quarter of 2005. Basic and diluted EPS for the second quarter of 2006 amounted to RMB1.76 ($0.22) and RMB1.69 ($0.21), respectively.

Net income excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) was RMB70.2 million ($8.8 million), a 61.6% increase from the previous quarter and a 285.3% increase from the second quarter of 2005. Basic and diluted EPS excluding share-based compensation expenses (non-GAAP) for the second quarter of 2006 was RMB2.11 ($0.26) and RMB2.03 ($0.25), respectively.

As of June 30, 2006, the Company had cash and cash equivalents of RMB1.1 billion ($133.2 million). Net operating cash flow and capital expenditures for the second quarter of 2006 were RMB129.7 million ($16.2 million) and RMB41.1 million ($5.1 million), respectively. The increase in capital expenditures was primarily due to expenditures incurred to support significant traffic growth during the quarter.

Table of Contents

Adjusted EBITDA (non-GAAP), which is defined as earnings before interest, taxes, depreciation, amortization, other non-operating income, and share-based compensation expenses, were RMB85.0 million ($10.6 million) for the second quarter of 2006, representing a 62.7% increase from the previous quarter and a 243.0% increase from the corresponding period in 2005.

Outlook for Third Quarter 2006

Baidu currently expects to generate total revenues in an amount ranging from RMB238 million ($30 million) to RMB246 million ($31 million) in the third quarter of 2006, representing a 168% to 177% increase from the corresponding period in 2005. This forecast reflects Baidu's current and preliminary view, which is subject to change.

Safe Harbor Statement

This announcement contains forward-looking statements. These statements are made under the safe harbor provisions of the U.S. Private Securities Litigation Reform Act of 1995. These forward-looking statements can be identified by terminology such as "will," "expects," "anticipates," "future," "intends," "plans," "believes," "estimates" and similar statements. Among other things, the outlook for third quarter 2006 and quotations from management in this announcement, as well as Baidu's strategic and operational plans, contain forward-looking statements. Baidu may also make written or oral forward-looking statements in its periodic reports to the U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission in its annual report to shareholders, in press releases and other written materials and in oral statements made by its officers, directors or employees to third parties. Statements that are not historical facts, including statements about Baidu's beliefs and expectations, are forward-looking statements. Forward-looking statements involve inherent risks and uncertainties. A number of factors could cause actual results to differ materially from those contained in any forward-looking statement, including but not limited to the following: our growth strategies; our future business development, results of operations and financial condition; our ability to attract and retain users and customers; competition in the Chinese language Internet search market; competition for online marketing customers; changes in our revenues and certain cost or expense items as a percentage of our revenues; the outcome of ongoing, or any future, litigation or arbitration, including those relating to copyright and other intellectual property rights; the expected growth of the Chinese language Internet search market and the number of Internet and broadband users in China; and Chinese governmental policies relating to the Internet and Internet content providers. Further information regarding these and other risks is included in our annual report on Form 20-F and other documents filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission. Baidu does not undertake any obligation to update any forward-looking statement, except as required under applicable law. All information provided in this press release and in the attachments is as of July 26, 2006, and Baidu undertakes no duty to update such information, except as required under applicable law.

About Non-GAAP Financial Measures

To supplement Baidu's consolidated financial results presented in accordance with GAAP, Baidu uses the following measures defined as non-GAAP financial measures by the SEC: adjusted EBITDA, operating profit excluding share-based compensation expenses, net income excluding share-based compensation expenses, and basic and diluted EPS excluding share-based compensation expenses. The presentation of these non-GAAP financial measures is not intended to be considered in isolation or as a substitute for the financial information prepared and presented in accordance with GAAP. For more information on these non-GAAP financial measures, please see the tables captioned

Reconciliations of non-GAAP results of operations measures to the nearest comparable GAAP measures and Reconciliation from net cash provided by operating activities to adjusted EBITDA set forth at the end of this release.

Baidu believes that these non-GAAP financial measures provide meaningful supplemental information regarding its performance and liquidity by excluding certain expenses and expenditures that may not be indicative of its operating performance from a cash perspective. We believe that both management and investors benefit from referring to these non-GAAP financial measures in assessing our performance and when planning and forecasting future periods. These non-GAAP financial measures also facilitate management's internal comparisons to Baidu's historical performance and liquidity. Baidu computes its non-GAAP financial measures using the same consistent method from quarter to quarter, except that the non-GAAP measures for the quarter ended March 31, 2006 reflected the one-time cumulative effect of change in accounting principle due to our adoption of SFAS 123(R) since January 1, 2006. We believe these non-GAAP financial measures are useful to investors in allowing for greater transparency with respect to supplemental information used by management in its financial and operational decision making. A limitation of using non-GAAP operating profit excluding share-based compensation expenses, net income excluding share-based compensation expenses, and basic and diluted EPS excluding share-based compensation expenses is that these non-GAAP measures exclude share-based compensation charge that has been and will continue to be for the foreseeable future a significant recurring expense in our business. A limitation of using non-GAAP Adjusted EBITDA is that it does not include all items that impact our net income for the period. Management compensates for these limitations by providing specific information regarding the GAAP amounts excluded from each non-GAAP measure. The accompanying tables have more details on the reconciliations between GAAP financial measures that are most directly comparable to non-GAAP financial measures.
