Item 8.01 Other Events.

On August 16, 2010, Career Education Corporation (the Registrant) issued a press release commenting on the August 13, 2010 release of U.S. Department of Education (ED) student loan repayment rates for institutions that receive federal loans under Title IV of the Higher Education Act. The information provided on August 13, 2010 relates to the proposed rule changes by ED seeking to define gainful employment.

The Registrant is currently analyzing the data released by ED regarding the company's institutions. The Registrant intends to work with ED to gain further clarity on its methodology and, where possible, obtain access to additional information. The gainful employment rule, as currently proposed, requires repayment rate information and salary information at a program level to determine eligibility to provide Title IV loans. Program-level repayment rates and salary information have not been made available at this time.

As the Registrant has previously communicated publicly, the information provided on August 13, 2010 combined with analysis from limited data related to the other parts of the proposed gainful employment test indicates directionally that the Registrant's Culinary and Art and Design segments would be more impacted than the Health and University segments. The Registrant will continue to assess the information available during the coming weeks and will submit comments on the proposed gainful employment rule within the defined comment period.

A copy of the press release is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1, and the information contained therein is incorporated herein by reference.
