Announcement

Continuing Connected Transactions

The Company entered into the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement (the Existing Framework Agreements) with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and China Petrochemical Corporation respectively on 19 October 2007. Please refer to the 2007 Announcement and the 2007 Circular on the relevant continuing connected transactions under the Existing Framework Agreements issued by the Company on 19 October 2007 and 29 October 2007 respectively for details of the Existing Framework Agreements. At the 2007 EGM, the then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved continuing connected transactions of the Company under the Existing Framework Agreements and their relevant annual caps for the two years ended 31 December 2008, 2009 and the year ending 31 December 2010.

The Existing Framework Agreements will expire on 31 December 2010. In order to ensure the normal operation of the Company, the Company intends to renew the Existing Framework Agreements to continue to conduct similar continuing connected transactions in the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013. The Continuing Connected Transactions under the Renewed Framework Agreements are subject to certain requirements under Chapter 14A of the Hong Kong Listing Rules. In particular, as the applicable percentage ratios of the continuing connected transactions under the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement are expected to exceed 5%, the relevant continuing connected transactions therefore constitute non-exempt continuing connected transactions of the Company under the Hong Kong Listing Rules, and such transactions together with the associated annual caps will be subject to the approval by the Independent Shareholders at the EGM. The percentage ratios of the continuing connected transactions under the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement are expected to be less than 5% on an annual basis, such transactions therefore fall within Rule 14A.34 of the Hong Kong Listing Rules and are subject to the reporting, announcement and annual review requirements only and are exempt from approval by the Independent Shareholders under the Hong Kong Listing Rules.

However, in accordance with the Shanghai Listing Rules, the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions contained therein and the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions contained therein, are subject to the approval by the Independent Shareholders and the relevant information disclosure procedures.

An Independent Board Committee has been established to advise the Independent Shareholders as to the terms of the continuing connected transactions under the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the proposed annual caps on the relevant continuing connected transactions for each of the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013. Pursuant to the Shanghai Listing Rules, the Independent non-executive directors are required to opine on the Renewed Framework Agreements and the Continuing Connected Transactions thereunder.

Table of Contents

A circular containing details of the Continuing Connected Transactions under the Renewed Framework Agreements and a letter containing the advice of the independent financial adviser will be despatched to the H Shareholders of the Company on or around 26 November 2010. As the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement is exempt from the approval of the Independent Shareholders under the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the independent financial adviser will only opine on the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions contained therein. A notice of the EGM for the H Shareholders will be despatched as soon as reasonably practicable together with the proxy form and notice of attendance. Shareholders of the Company who are deemed to have an interest in any of the Continuing Connected Transactions (being China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates) shall abstain from voting at the relevant Shareholders' meeting.

1. INTRODUCTION

Reference is made to the 2007 Announcement and the 2007 Circular in relation to the continuing connected transactions of the Company under the Existing Framework Agreements.

The Company entered into the Existing Framework Agreements on 19 October 2007, details of the Existing Framework Agreements were disclosed in the 2007 Announcement and the 2007 Circular. The then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the continuing connected transactions under the Existing Framework Agreements and the associated annual caps for each of the three years ending 31 December 2008, 2009 and 2010 at the EGM of the Company held on 13 December 2007.

As the Existing Framework Agreements will expire on 31 December 2010 and the Company intends to continue to conduct similar transactions in the future in order to ensure the normal operation of the Company, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Framework Agreements with China Petrochemical Corporation and China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation respectively. Therefore, the Company must comply with the relevant requirements under Chapter 14A of the Hong Kong Listing Rules, including announcement requirement, reporting requirement, annual review requirement and where necessary, Independent Shareholders' approval. Pursuant to the Shanghai Listing Rules, the Continuing Connected Transactions are subject to the approval by the Independent Shareholders and the relevant information disclosure procedures.

At the 17th meeting of the sixth session of the Board held on 11 November 2010, the Board approved each of the Continuing Connected Transactions and the execution of the Renewed Framework Agreements.

An Independent Board Committee has been established to advise the Independent Shareholders as to the terms of the continuing connected transactions under the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the proposed annual caps on the relevant continuing connected transactions for each of the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013. Pursuant to the Shanghai Listing Rules, the Independent non-executive directors are required to opine on the Renewed Framework Agreements and the Continuing Connected Transactions.

A circular containing details of the Continuing Connected Transactions under the Renewed Framework Agreements, including a letter containing the advice of the independent financial adviser, will be despatched to the H Shareholders of the Company on or around 26 November 2010. As the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement is exempt from the approval of the Independent Shareholders under the Hong Kong Listing Rules, the independent financial adviser will only opine on the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions contained therein. A notice of the EGM for the H Shareholders will be despatched as soon as reasonably practicable together with the proxy form and the notice of attendance. Shareholders of the Company who are deemed to have an interest in any of the Continuing Connected Transactions shall abstain from voting at the relevant Shareholders' meeting.

2. CONTINUING CONNECTED TRANSACTIONS

2.1 Overview

Due to the special nature of the industry the Company operates in and as it is necessary for operation of business of the Company, the Company has, since its initial public offering on 6 July 1993, been conducting various transactions with China Petrochemical Corporation, China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and their associates, including but not limited to the purchase of raw materials (e.g. crude oil, naphtha, ethylene, etc.), the sale of petroleum products (e.g. gasoline, diesel, jet fuel, liquefied petroleum gas, etc.), the sale of petrochemical products (e.g. butadiene, benzene, PX, EG, etc.), and the agency sale of petrochemical products. The Company entered into the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation on 19 October 2007, details of which were disclosed in the 2007 Announcement and the 2007 Circular. The then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the continuing connected transactions under the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreements at the 2007 EGM. As the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement will expire on 31 December 2010 and the Company intends to continue to conduct similar transactions in the future, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation.

The Company has also from time to time obtained, in its ordinary and usual course of business, various non-core business services from service providers (including China Petroleum Corporation and its associates) to support and supplement the Company's core business. These services include construction, installation and engineering design services, petrochemical industry insurance services and financial services. Accordingly, the Company entered into the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement with China Petrochemical Corporation on 19 October 2007, details of which were disclosed in the 2007 Announcement and the 2007 Circular. The then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the continuing connected transactions under the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement at the 2007 EGM. As the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement will expire on 31 December 2010 and the Company intends to continue to conduct similar transactions in the future, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement with China Petrochemical Corporation so as to continue to obtain these services.

The ownership and controlling relationship between the Company and its de facto controller are set out below:

Both China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and China Petrochemical Corporation are substantial shareholders (as defined in the Hong Kong Listing Rules) and are controlling shareholders and de facto controller under the Shanghai Listing Rules. Therefore, China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and China Petrochemical Corporation and their associates are connected persons of the Company under the Hong Kong Listing Rules and the Shanghai Listing Rules.

In addition, an associate of China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation holds 22.67% equity interests in one of the Company's subsidiaries, China Jinshan Associated Trading Corporation (Jinshan Associated Trading). Therefore Jinshan Associated Trading is a connected person of the Company pursuant to Rule 14A.11(5) of the Hong Kong Listing Rules and the relevant rules of Shanghai Listing Rules.

The Company and each of the connected parties involved in the continuing connected transactions (except where the connected party is China Petrochemical Corporation) are owned by the same ultimate beneficial owner, China Petrochemical Corporation, either directly or indirectly.

Table of Contents2.3 Background, reasons for the transactions, pricing policies and the proposed annual caps*2.3.1 Purchase of raw materials

Background: The Company produces over 60 different types of products representing a broad range of synthetic fibres, resins and plastics, intermediate petrochemicals and petroleum products. Each of these products is created from the chemical processing of crude oil, naphtha, ethylene, propylene, aromatics and other intermediate petrochemicals. In order to ensure a steady, orderly, continuing and efficient operation of the Company, since the Company's initial public offering on 6 July 1993, the Company has been purchasing and will continue to purchase most of petrochemical raw materials (such as crude oil, naphtha, ethylene, etc.) and other materials and goods (such as spare parts) which are necessary for maintaining a production material balance from or via China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates at market prices, in order to produce various types of products.

The table below sets out the historical figures of the Company's aggregate purchases of petrochemical raw materials and other materials and goods from China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation's associates for each of the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and for the six months ended 30 June 2010:

	Historical figures
	(RMB in millions)
	For the year ended		For the six months ended
	31 December 2008	2009	30 June 2010
Aggregate purchases of petrochemical raw materials and other materials and goods from China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates	42,734	24,263	15,986

The Company entered into the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, which included the continuing connected transaction regarding the purchase of raw materials, with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation on 19 October 2007. The Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder were approved at the 2007 EGM. As at the date of this announcement, the terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder continue to have full effect and remain unchanged. However, as the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement will expire soon on 31 December 2010, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation so as to continue to purchase petrochemical raw materials and other materials and goods which are necessary for production material balance from or via China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates at market price for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013.

Reasons for such transactions: As the Company does not possess a considerable amount of reserves of crude oil and other raw materials, it is necessary for the Company to continue to purchase raw materials to ensure continuing operation of its business. The oil and petrochemical industry in the PRC has always been subject to extensive regulations by the PRC government which implements a regulation on issuing licences to qualified crude oil business operators. The Company may only purchase from companies with licences and China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates (e.g. China International United Petroleum & Chemicals Co., Ltd) possess such licences. In addition, China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates have large crude oil storage tanks and pipeline transportation facilities close to the Company's production site. The Company considers that using the pipeline facilities of China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates to import crude oil will ensure stable and secured supply of crude oil and reduce transportation costs of crude oil.

Table of Contents

The Company has been purchasing petrochemical raw materials (such as crude oil, naphtha, ethylene, etc.) and other materials and goods at market prices from or via China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates (including China International United Petroleum & Chemicals Co., Ltd., Sinopec Pipeline Transport and Storage Company, Sinopec Shanghai Gao Qiao Company etc.). An interruption of raw materials supply from China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation would increase difficulty and costs of operation of the Company, and therefore definitely cause a material adverse impact on the Company's production of its petroleum and petrochemical products.

Accordingly, the Board believes that reliability and stability of supply of raw materials is crucial to the safe, steady, long-term, fully-loaded and optimised operation of the Company and it is in the interest of the Company and its Shareholders as a whole to continue the purchase of raw materials from or via China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates, and all independent non-executive Directors of the Company agree with this view.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, the purchase of petrochemical raw materials (such as crude oil, naphtha, ethylene, etc.) and other materials and goods from or via China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates are priced in accordance with the following pricing policies:

- (a) if there are applicable State (central and local governments) tariffs, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall follow the State tariffs; or
- (b) if there are no State tariffs, but if there are applicable State's guidance prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall follow the State's guidance prices; or
- (c) if there are no applicable State tariffs or State's guidance prices, the pricing of the Company's purchases shall be determined in accordance with the prevailing market prices (including any bidding prices).

The Company will settle the payment for its raw material purchases by way of cash payments in accordance with the payment terms set out in each of the individual contracts for the purchase of such raw materials.

Annual caps: For the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013, the Company proposes that the annual transaction values in relation to the purchase of raw materials from China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates shall not, in aggregate, exceed the annual caps of RMB47.3 billion, RMB57.7 billion and RMB81.0 billion, respectively. In 2007, the then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the annual caps of RMB53.0 billion, RMB63.0 billion and RMB73.0 billion in relation to the purchase of raw materials for the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and the year ending 31 December 2010, respectively. The annual caps for 2008 and 2009 were not exceeded and based on the current estimate, the Company is of the view that it is highly unlikely that the annual cap for 2010 will be exceeded.

The annual caps for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of purchases of raw materials from or via China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates;

Table of Contents

- (b) the Company's estimate of its business growth;
- (c) the Company's estimate of the increase in its production capacity;
- (d) the Company's estimate of the increase in the price of raw materials; and
- (e) the Company's estimate of the impact of possible price fluctuations brought by geopolitical factors, fluctuation of exchange rate of US dollars and speculations on energy prices caused by speculative funds in the international capital market, apart from the price fluctuations brought by ordinary demand and supply balance.

The Company plans to implement the refinery revamping and expansion project (including a 3,900,000 T/Y residue oil hydrotreating plant and 3,500,000 T/Y catalytic cracker etc.). Upon completion of the project, the Company's capacity and depth of crude oil processing will be further enhanced, and therefore increase the Company's demand for petrochemical raw materials including crude oil and other materials and goods.

Besides, the Company is aware that the proposed annual cap for the year ending 31 December 2013 has increased to a large extent as compared to the annual caps of 2011 and 2012. This is principally because the Company estimated that its capacity of processing crude oil would increase after implementation of the refinery revamping and expansion project and that prices of international crude oil and other raw materials may further increase which will directly lead to an increase in the purchase prices of its raw materials.

Crude oil constitutes a very big portion in the abovementioned annual caps for purchase of raw materials, and the caps are closely linked to the level of crude oil prices. Apart from the supply/ demand balance, crude oil prices have been increasingly affected by factors including geopolitics in recent years and gradually evolved into a financial investment derivative. Various speculative gimmicks and media hypes have aggravated the fluctuation of crude oil prices. Crude oil is one of the most important raw materials used in the Company's production and accounts for generally over 60% of the Company's sales cost. Giving first priority to the performance/price ratio and taking into account the technical and process features of the Company's refining and chemical production plants, the Company has adopted a strategy featuring balanced sourcing, reasonable inventory and risk control, using business entities with crude oil business operation licences granted by the government including China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates as oil sourcing and transportation agent in both domestic and international crude oil markets. In order to lower crude oil transportation costs, the Company also makes full use of China Petroleum and Chemical Corporation's Ningbo-Shanghai-Nanjing pipeline and its deep water crude oil terminal in Ningbo which is capable of berthing VLCC. China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates (China International United Petroleum & Chemicals Co., Ltd. and Sinopec Pipeline Transport and Storage Company), acting as the Company's agent, currently handles sourcing and transportation of about 2/3 of the crude oil the Company processes. The Company manages the outsourced purchase, transportation and storage in different ways according to the type of the business unit, crude oil and oil prices, and conducts account reconciliation on a monthly basis. The Company keeps close track of the market and makes choice of the type and quantity of oil on its own, leaving the price to be decided by the market. The aforementioned annual caps include FOB price, the stage-one cost of delivery to the crude oil terminal in Ningbo by VLCC, the stage-two cost of delivery to the Company through Ningbo-Shanghai-Nanjing pipeline plus shipping loss and port administration fee.

2.3.2 Sale of petroleum products

Background: Transactions involving sale and purchase of petroleum products including gasoline, diesel, jet fuel and liquefied petroleum gas, etc., are subject to regulations by the PRC government which implements a regulation on issuing licences to qualified petroleum products business operators. The Company is only allowed to sell petroleum products to companies with the licences. China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates (e.g. Sinopec Marketing Company Huadong Branch) possess such licences, hence, since the Company's initial public offering on 6 July 1993, the Company has been selling and will continue to sell petroleum products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates.

Table of Contents

China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation was one of the Company's five largest customers for each of the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and for the six months ended 30 June 2010. The table below sets out the historical figures of the Company's aggregate sales of petroleum products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for each of the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and for the six months ended 30 June 2010:

	Historical figures
	(RMB in millions)
	For the year ended		For the six months ended
	31 December	30 June	30 June
	2008	2009	2010
Aggregate sale of petroleum products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates	24,682	20,313	13,030

The Company entered into the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, which included the continuing connected transaction regarding the sale of petroleum products, with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation on 19 October 2007. The terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder were approved at the 2007 EGM. As at the date of this announcement, the terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder continue to have full effect and remain unchanged. However, as the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement will expire soon on 31 December 2010, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation so as to continue the sale of petroleum products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013.

Reasons for such transactions: China's oil and petrochemical industry has always been subject to extensive regulation by the PRC government. Transactions involving the sale and purchase of petroleum products are controlled by the PRC government. Accordingly, the Company's sale of petroleum products is governed by the relevant PRC regulations and measures. In addition, China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates own widespread petroleum products sales network and possess a fairly high market share in domestic petroleum product market. Therefore, selling petroleum products via the channel of China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates would help the Company benefit from its solid commercial network and improve the Company's competitiveness.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, the sale of petroleum products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates is determined in accordance with the following pricing policies:

- (a) if there are applicable State (central and local governments) tariffs, the pricing of the Company's sales shall follow the State tariffs;

Table of Contents

- (b) if there are no State tariffs, but if there are applicable State's guidance prices, the pricing of the Company's sales shall follow the State's guidance prices; or
- (c) if there are no applicable State tariffs or State's guidance prices, the pricing of the Company's sales shall be determined in accordance with the prevailing market prices (including any bidding prices).

China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates will settle payment for their purchases of the Company's petroleum products by way of cash payments in accordance with the payment terms set out in each of the individual sales contracts for the sale of such petroleum products.

Annual caps: For the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013, the Company proposes that the annual transaction values in relation to the sale of petroleum products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates shall not, in aggregate, exceed the annual caps of RMB36.6 billion, RMB52.0 billion and RMB75.0 billion, respectively. In 2007, the then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the annual caps of RMB28.0 billion, RMB36.5 billion and RMB45.0 billion in relation to the sale of petrochemical products for the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and the year ending 31 December 2010, respectively. The annual caps for 2008 and 2009 were not exceeded and based on the current estimate, the Company is of the view that it is highly unlikely that the annual cap for 2010 will be exceeded.

The annual caps for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of the sale of petroleum products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates;
- (b) the current prices of petroleum products and expectations on the improvement of the State's petroleum products pricing mechanism;
- (c) the Company's estimate of the increase in international crude oil prices;
- (d) the Company's estimate of the increase in its production capacity of petroleum products; and
- (e) the Company's estimate of the impact of possible price fluctuations brought by geopolitical factors, fluctuation of exchange rate of US dollars and speculations on energy prices caused by speculative funds in the international capital market, apart from the price fluctuations brought by ordinary demand and supply balance.

The Company plans to implement the refinery revamping and expansion project (including constructing 3,900,000 T/Y residue oil hydrotreating plant and 3,500,000 T/Y catalytic cracker etc.). Upon completion of the project, the production capacity of petroleum products of the Company will be further increased. Accordingly, the Company expects the sale of its petroleum products to increase substantially as a result of the production capacity expansion.

The Company is aware that the proposed annual caps for the years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 have increased as compared to the previous annual caps, which is primarily due to the Company's expectation of the further increase of price of petroleum products following the increase of price of raw materials and of the abovementioned increase in its production capacity of petroleum products.

Table of Contents2.3.3 Sale of petrochemical products

Background: In addition to sale of petroleum products, the Company has in the past in the ordinary and usual course of its business sold certain petrochemical products, including butadiene, benzene, PX and EG etc., to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates.

The table below sets forth the historical figures of the Company's total sales of its petrochemical products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for each of the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and for the six months ended 30 June 2010:

	Historical figures
	(RMB in millions)
	For the year ended		For the six months ended
	31 December 2008	2009	30 June 2010
Total Sale of petrochemical products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates	4,607	6,289	5,188

The Company entered into the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, which included the continuing connected transaction regarding the sale of petrochemical products, with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation on 19 October 2007. The terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder were approved at the 2007 EGM. As at the date of this announcement, the terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder continue to have full effect and remain unchanged. However, as the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement will expire soon on 31 December 2010, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation so as to continue the sale of its petrochemical products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013.

Reasons for such transactions: The Company believes that sale of petrochemical products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates at market price reduces the needs for a prolonged stocking of its petrochemical products in its inventory, optimise its operation, reduce impact of fluctuation of market demand to the largest extent and ensure stable profits. In addition, as the Company has already established an amicable customer-supplier relationship with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation, it believes that an alliance with a reputable international petrochemical corporation such as China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation can retain stable client and assist the development and market expansion for its products.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, the sale of petrochemical products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates are determined according to the following pricing policies:

- (a) if there are applicable State (central and local governments) tariffs, the pricing of the Company's sales shall follow the State tariffs;
- (b) if there are no State tariffs, but if there are applicable State's guidance prices, the pricing of the Company's sales shall follow the State's guidance prices; or

Table of Contents

- (c) if there are no applicable State tariffs or State's guidance prices, the pricing of the Company's sales shall be determined in accordance with the prevailing market prices (including any bidding prices).

China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates will settle payment for their purchases of the Company's petrochemical products by way of cash payments in accordance with the payment terms set out in each of the individual sales contracts for the sale of such petrochemical products.

Annual caps: For the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013, the Company proposes the annual transaction values in relation to the sale of petrochemical products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates shall not, in aggregate, exceed the annual caps of RMB16.1 billion, RMB17.4 billion and RMB20.9 billion, respectively. In 2007, the then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the annual caps of RMB7.0 billion, RMB8.5 billion and RMB11.0 billion in relation to the sale of petrochemical products for the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and the year ending 31 December 2010, respectively. The annual caps for 2008 and 2009 were not exceeded and based on the current estimate, the Company is of the view that it is highly unlikely that the annual cap for 2010 will be exceeded.

The annual caps for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of the sale of its petrochemical products to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates;
- (b) the Company's estimate of the increase in the costs of raw materials;
- (c) the Company's estimate of the increase in its production capacity of petrochemical products;
- (d) the Company's estimate of the increase in the market prices of petrochemical products; and
- (e) the Company's estimate of the impact of possible price fluctuations brought by geopolitical factors, fluctuation of exchange rate of US dollars and speculations on energy prices caused by speculative funds in the international capital market, apart from the price fluctuations brought by ordinary demand and supply balance.

The Company plans to implement the refinery revamping and expansion project (including construction of 3,900,000 T/Y residue oil hydrotreating plant and 3,500,000 T/Y catalytic cracker etc.) and other projects such as installing 10,000 T/Y isopentene plant, 1,500 T/Y carbon fiber plant and 100,000 T/Y EVA plant. Completion of the abovementioned projects will further increase the production capacity of petrochemical products of the Company. Accordingly, the Company expects the sale of its petrochemical products to increase substantially as a result of the production capacity expansion.

The Company is aware that the proposed annual caps for the years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 have substantially increased as compared to the previous annual caps, which is primarily due to the increase of the production capacity of the Company as mentioned above and expansion of business and change of trade mode of the Company's subsidiary, Jinshan Associated Trading.

Table of Contents2.3.4 Property leasing

Background: In 2004, the Company purchased the property rights of the 16th to 28th floors of Huamin Empire Plaza, No.728 Yan'an Road West, Shanghai, to be used as the Company's city office while part of the property was leased out. In 2007, the Company decided to lease the property to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates considering their strong financial background and included the property leasing into the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sales Services Framework Agreement.

The table below sets forth the historical figures of the Company's annual transaction values in relation to property leasing to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for each of the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and for the six months ended 30 June 2010:

	Historical figures
	(RMB in millions)

	31 December 2008	2009	30 June 2010
Annual transaction values in relation to property leasing to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates	14	15	9

The Company entered into the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation on 19 October 2007, which included the relevant continuing connected transaction regarding leasing of property. The terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder were approved at the 2007 EGM. As at the date of this announcement, the terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder continue to have full effect and remain unchanged. However, as the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement will expire soon on 31 December 2010, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation so as to continue leasing property to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013.

Reasons for such transactions: Part of the property is leased to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates. Taking into account (i) the solid financial background and reputation of China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and (ii) the fact that China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation is able to rent many rooms for a relatively long period of time, the Board proposes the Company to continue leasing the property to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates in the future.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Service Framework Agreement, the leasing of property to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates is priced in accordance with the then market prices. The Company will generally receive rental payments in cash payments in accordance with the rental payment terms set out in the individual lease agreement.

Table of Contents

Annual caps: For the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013, the Company proposes that the annual transaction values in relation to property leasing to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates shall not, in aggregate, exceed the annual caps of RMB28 million, RMB31 million and RMB32 million, respectively. In 2007, the then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the annual caps of RMB28 million, RMB30 million and RMB33 million in relation to the lease of property for the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and the year ending 31 December 2010, respectively. The annual caps for 2008 and 2009 were not exceeded and based on the current estimate, the Company is of the view that it is highly unlikely that the annual cap for 2010 will be exceeded.

The annual caps for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 are determined with reference to:

- (a) the market prices of similar properties in Shanghai in the past three years; and
- (b) the Company's estimate of the increase in rental prices for office properties in Shanghai.

2.3.5 Agency sale of petrochemical products

Background: In the ordinary and usual course of the Company's business, the Company has in the past entered into sale arrangements with its agents pursuant to which the agents will, on behalf of the Company, procure purchasers for the Company's petrochemical products, including resins, synthetic fiber monomers and polymers, synthetic fibers, intermediate petrochemicals, by-products of ethylene crackers and aromatics complex, as well as off-spec products related to the aforementioned five types of products, on a commission basis.

The sales agents with whom the Company entered into these ongoing arrangements include China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates. The table below sets forth the historical figures of the aggregate agency commissions that the Company paid to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for each of the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and for the six months ended 30 June 2010:

	Historical figures
	(RMB in millions)

The Company entered into the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation on 19 October 2007, which included the continuing connected transaction regarding agency sale of petrochemical products. The terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder were approved at the 2007 EGM. As at the date of this announcement, the terms of the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder continue to have full effect and remain unchanged. However, as the Existing Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement will expire on 31 December 2010, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation so as to continue to appoint China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates as agents of the Company in respect of the agency sale of the Company's petrochemical products for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013.

Reasons for such transactions: Trading, distribution and marketing of the Company's products are important elements in the success of the business of the Company. China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation is one of the largest petrochemical companies in the world and has a strong global trading, distribution and marketing network. The Company considers that by appointing China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates as its sales agents, it will benefit from China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation's experience, expertise and strong global network, increase the sales of its petrochemical products, avoid horizontal trade competition with China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates and further improve the Company's bargaining position with customers.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, the commissions payable to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates in connection with the agency sale of the Company's petrochemical products are determined on the prevailing market commission rates for agency sale of the Company's petrochemical products.

The Company will pay the commissions by way of cash payments generally on a monthly basis.

Annual caps: For the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013, the Company proposes the annual agency commission payable to China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates for sale of the Company's petrochemical products shall not, in aggregate, exceed the annual caps of RMB0.29 billion, RMB0.31 billion and RMB0.39 billion, respectively. In 2007, the then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the annual caps of RMB0.25 billion, RMB0.31 billion and RMB0.38 billion in relation to the annual agency sale of the Company's petrochemical products for the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and the year ending 31 December 2010, respectively. The annual caps for 2008 and 2009 were not exceeded and based on the current estimate, the Company is of the view that it is highly unlikely that the annual cap for 2010 will be exceeded.

The annual caps for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of agency sale of petrochemical products through China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates;
- (b) the Company's estimate of the increase in petrochemical product prices resulting from the increase in international crude oil prices; and
- (c) the Company's estimate of its increase in production capacity.

The Company plans to implement the refinery revamping and expansion project (including construction of 3,900,000 T/Y residue oil hydrotreating plant and 3,500,000 T/Y catalytic cracker etc.) and other projects such as installing 10,000 T/Y isopentene plant, 1,500 T/Y carbon fiber plant and 100,000 T/Y EVA plant. Completion of the abovementioned projects will further increase the production capacity of petrochemical products of the Company. Accordingly, the Company expects the agency sale of its petrochemical products to increase substantially as a result of the production capacity expansion.

2.3.6 Provision of construction, installation and engineering design services

Background: In order to upgrade and optimize existing products and processes and to develop and improve new technology, products, processes and equipment relating to its business, the Company maintains several technology development centers and research institutes. The detailed engineering and implementation of such designs are carried out by external service providers.

Since the Company's initial public offering on 6 July 1993, the Company has from time to time obtained, in the ordinary and usual course of its business, construction, installation and engineering design services from external service providers including China Petrochemical Corporation Ningbo Engineering Company Limited and China Petrochemical Corporation Shanghai Engineering Company Limited, both of which are subsidiaries of China Petrochemical Corporation.

The table below sets forth the historical figures of the aggregate construction, installation and engineering design fees the Company paid to China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates for each of the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and for the six months ended 30 June 2010:

The Company entered into the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement with China Petrochemical Corporation on 19 October 2007, which included the continuing connected transaction regarding construction, installation and engineering design with China Petrochemical Corporation. The terms of the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder were approved at the 2007 EGM. As at the date of this announcement, the terms of the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder continue to have full effect and remain unchanged. However, as the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement will expire soon on 31 December 2010, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement with China Petrochemical Corporation so as to continue to obtain construction, installation and engineering design services from China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013.

Table of Contents

Reasons for such transactions: The Company believes that China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates have consistently been able to meet the Company's stringent demands for highly technical design, as well as construction and installation specifications and timely delivery of services of good quality. As the Company considers that having reliable and co-operative service providers are important and beneficial to the Company, obtaining services from China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates allows the Company to ensure timely completion of its future projects while maintaining the requisite quality. In addition, obtaining construction, installation and engineering design services from China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates will minimize the risk of leakage of intellectual property and trade secrets to third parties in the process of providing such services.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement, the fees payable to China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates in relation to the provision of construction, installation and engineering design services are priced according to the prevailing market prices (including any bidding prices) for such services.

The Company will settle the fees by way of cash payments in accordance with the payment terms set out in each of the individual service contracts for the provision of such services.

Annual caps: For the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013, the Company proposes that the annual fees payable in relation to the provision of construction, installation and engineering design services by China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates shall not, in aggregate, exceed the annual caps of RMB0.665 billion, RMB0.64 billion and RMB0.42 billion, respectively. In 2007, the then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved annual caps of RMB0.55 billion, RMB0.33 billion and RMB0.55 billion in relation to the provision of construction, installation and engineering design services for the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and the year ending 31 December 2010, respectively. The annual caps for 2008 and 2009 were not exceeded and based on the current estimate, the Company is of the view that it is highly unlikely that the annual cap for 2010 will be exceeded.

The annual caps for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of the provision of construction, installation and engineering design services by China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates;
- (b) the Company's estimate of the construction, installation and engineering design services costs which are required to satisfy its existing and future development; and
- (c) the Company's estimate of the increase in the market prices of construction, installation and engineering design services based on the historical economic data and data in relation to the future economic growth in the PRC.

Besides, the Company is aware that the annual caps for the years ending 31 December 2011 and 2012 have been increased compared to the previous annual caps. This is primarily due to the implementation of the following projects:

the refinery revamping and expansion project, including construction of 3,900,000 T/Y residue hydrotreating plant and 3,500,000 T/Y catalytic cracker and other facilities;

planned installation of 100,000 T/Y EVA plant;

planned installation of 1,500 T/Y carbon fiber plant; planned installation of 10,000 T/Y isopentene plant; and other technology upgrading and energy-saving projects.

2.3.7 Provision of petrochemical industry insurance services

Background: Since the Company's initial public offering on 6 July 1993, the Company has been, in the ordinary and usual course of its business, using insurance services provided by China Petrochemical Corporation for the insurance of its petrochemicals production, property, facilities and inventory.

The table below sets forth the historical figures of the aggregate insurance premium the Company paid to China Petrochemical Corporation for each of the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and for the six months ended 30 June 2010:

	Historical figures
	(RMB in millions)
	For the year ended		For the six months ended
	31 December 2008	2009	30 June 2010
Aggregate insurance premium the Company paid to China Petrochemical Corporation	94	88	56

The Company entered into the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement, which included the continuing connected transaction regarding the provision of petrochemical industry insurance services, with China Petrochemical Corporation on 19 October 2007. The terms of the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder were approved at the 2007 EGM. As at the date of this announcement, the terms of the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder continue to have full effect and remain unchanged. However, as the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement will expire soon on 31 December 2010, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement with China Petrochemical Corporation so as to continue to obtain petrochemical industry insurance services from China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013.

Reasons for such transactions: Captive insurance has been widely adopted in the petrochemical industry. The Ministry of Finance has already granted approval for China Petrochemical Corporation to provide captive insurance services to its affiliates. The Company believes that maintaining a suitable insurance coverage over the Company's operation is important and will minimize the Company's risk exposure. Obtaining insurance services from China Petrochemical Corporation allows the Company to secure essential insurance coverage over its operation and is therefore beneficial to the Company.

Pricing: Pursuant to the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement, the premiums payable to China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates in relation to the provision of petrochemical industry insurance services are priced according to the relevant administrative measures promulgated by the Ministry of Finance and China Petrochemical Corporation which provided that such premiums should be calculated based on the fixed asset value and the inventory of the Company.

The Company will pay the insurance premiums by way of cash payments.

Table of Contents

Annual caps: For the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013, the Company proposes that the annual insurance premiums payable to China Petrochemical Corporation and its associates in relation to the provision of petrochemical industry insurance services shall not, in aggregate, exceed the annual caps of RMB0.135 billion, RMB0.141 billion and RMB0.174 billion, respectively. In 2007, the then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the annual caps of RMB0.11 billion, RMB0.12 billion and RMB0.13 billion in relation to the provision of petrochemical industry insurance services for the three years ended 31 December 2008, 2009 and 2010. The annual caps for 2008 and 2009 were not exceeded and based on the current estimate, the Company is of the view that it is highly unlikely that the annual cap for 2010 will be exceeded.

The annual caps for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of the provision of petrochemical industry insurance services by China Petrochemical Corporation;
- (b) the Company's estimate of the growth in the value of its facilities in view of the Company's existing and future development; and
- (c) the Company's estimate of the increase in the market prices for the provision of petrochemical industry insurance services in the PRC.

The implementation of the following projects is expected to expand the asset size of the Company and therefore increase the premium of insurance:

the refinery revamping and expansion project, including construction of 3,900,000 T/Y residue hydrotreating plant and 3,500,000 T/Y catalytic cracker and other facilities;

planned installation of 100,000 T/Y EVA plant;

planned installation of 1,500 T/Y carbon fiber plant; and planned installation of 10,000 T/Y isopentene plant, etc.

2.3.8 Financial services

Background: Sinopec Finance Company Limited (Sinopec Finance) is a non-bank finance company approved and regulated by the PBOC and the CBRC, and is an associate of China Petrochemical Corporation. The Company has been obtaining from Sinopec Finance certain financial services including:

deposit services;

loan services;

financing lease services;

bill acceptance or discounting services;

guarantee services; and any other services provided by Sinopec Finance as approved by the CBRC.

Table of Contents

The table below sets forth the historical figures of the aggregate fees the Company paid to Sinopec Finance for each of the two years ended 31 December 2008 and 2009 and for the six months ended 30 June 2010:

	Historical figures
	(RMB in millions)
	For the year ended		For the six months ended
	31 December 2008	2009	30 June 2010

The Company entered into the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement, which included the continuing connected transaction regarding the provision of financial services, with China Petrochemical Corporation on 19 October 2007. The terms of the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder were approved at the 2007 EGM. As at the date of this announcement, the terms of the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder continue to have full effect and remain unchanged. However, as the Existing Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement will expire soon on 31 December 2010, the Board proposes the Company to enter into the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement with China Petrochemical Corporation so as to continue to obtain financial services from Sinopec Finance for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013.

Reasons for such transactions: The Company considers that having reliable and co-operative financial services are important to its business as the nature of the Company's business means that transactions often involve payment of large sums of money. The ability to obtain timely financial services, such as loan facilities, discounting services and so forth is essential to the Company. The financial services provided by Sinopec Finance have always been for the benefit of the Company and are, in the Company's opinion, generally on no less favourable terms as compared to the terms offered by other financial institutions.

Pricing: The fees and charges payable by the Company to Sinopec Finance under the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement will be determined by reference to the applicable fees and charges specified by the PBOC and the CBRC for the relevant services from time to time, and if neither the PBOC nor the CBRC has specified a fee or charge for a particular service, then the services will be provided by Sinopec Finance on terms no less favorable than terms available from the commercial banks in China.

The Company will settle the fees and charges by way of cash payments in accordance with the payment terms set out in each of the individual financing agreements to be entered into with Sinopec Finance for the provision of such financial services.

Annual caps: For the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013, the Company proposes the annual fees payable to Sinopec Finance in relation to the provision of financial services shall not, in aggregate, exceed the annual caps of RMB164 million, RMB229 million and RMB308 million, respectively. In 2007, the then Independent Shareholders of the Company approved the annual caps of RMB40 million, RMB45 million and RMB50 million in relation to the provision of financial services for the three years ended 31 December 2008, 2009 and 2010. The annual caps for 2008 and 2009 were not exceeded and based on the current estimate, the Company is of the view that it is highly unlikely that the annual cap for 2010 will be exceeded.

Table of Contents

The annual caps for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 are determined with reference to:

- (a) the previous transactions conducted and transaction amounts in respect of the provision of financial services by Sinopec Finance Company Limited;
- (b) the Company's estimate of its business growth;
- (c) the Company's volume of transactions involving the use of financial services; and
- (d) the Company's estimate of the increase in the market prices of financial services.

The Company is aware that the proposed annual caps for the years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 have increased as compared to the previous annual caps. This is primarily due to the planned implementation of the refinery revamping and expansion project (including construction of 3,900,000 T/Y residue hydrotreating plant and 3,500,000 T/Y catalytic cracker etc.), and planned installation of 10,000 T/Y isopentene plant, 1,500 T/Y carbon fiber plant and 100,000 T/Y EVA plant. Construction of such projects will increase demand of capital of the Company. In the meantime, completion of such projects will further increase the production scale of the Company, which will increase demand of working capital of the Company.

3. IMPLICATION UNDER THE HONG KONG LISTING RULES AND THE SHANGHAI LISTING RULES

In respect of the continuing connected transactions under the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement, the relevant percentage ratios applicable for the purpose of Chapter 14A of the Hong Kong Listing Rules are expected to exceed 5% on an annual basis in the continuing connected transactions under the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement. The continuing connected transactions under the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sale Services Framework Agreement therefore constitute non-exempt continuing connected transactions of the Company under the Hong Kong Listing Rules, and such transactions together with the associated annual caps will be subject to the approval by the Independent Shareholders at the EGM.

In respect of the continuing connected transactions under the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement, as the relevant applicable percentage ratios set out in the Hong Kong Listing Rules are expected to be less than 5% on an annual basis, such transactions fall within Rule 14A.34 of the Hong Kong Listing Rules and are subject to the reporting, announcement and annual review requirements only and are exempt from approval by the Independent Shareholders under the Hong Kong Listing Rules.

However, under the Shanghai Listing Rules, the Renewed Mutual Product Supply and Sales Services Framework Agreements and the continuing connected transactions contained therein and the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions contained therein must be approved by the Independent Shareholders in the EGM.

4. BOARD APPROVAL & APPROVAL OF INDEPENDENT SHAREHOLDERS

At the 17th meeting of the sixth session of the Board on 11 November 2010, the Board approved each of the Continuing Connected Transactions and the terms and execution of the Renewed Framework Agreements.

The Board takes the view that the terms of the Renewed Framework Agreements and the terms of the Continuing Connected Transactions thereunder (including the proposed annual caps) are fair and reasonable, on normal commercial terms and are entered into in the usual and ordinary course of business and that the Continuing Connected Transactions are in the interests of the Company and its shareholders as a whole.

Table of Contents

The view of the Independent Board Committee, subject to the advice of an independent financial adviser, will be stated in a circular to be despatched to the H Shareholders on or around 26 November 2010.

The Company will seek Independent Shareholders' approval of the Renewed Framework Agreements and the Continuing Connected Transactions thereunder as well as the proposed annual caps for each of the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 on the Continuing Connected Transactions. In addition, the Company shall comply with the other relevant requirements under the Shanghai Listing Rules and Chapter 14A of the Hong Kong Listing Rules in relation to the Continuing Connected Transactions.

5. DESPATCH OF H SHAREHOLDERS' CIRCULAR

The Company will appoint an independent financial adviser to the Independent Board Committee. A circular containing, amongst other things, details of the Continuing Connected Transactions under the Renewed Framework Agreements, and letters from the Independent Board Committee and from the independent financial adviser will be despatched to the H Shareholders on or around 26 November 2010.

A notice to H Shareholders convening an EGM to approve the Renewed Framework Agreements and the Continuing Connected Transactions thereunder as well as the proposed annual caps for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 on the Continuing Connected Transactions will be served as soon as practicable. The proxy form and notice of attendance will be despatched together with the notice.

6. GENERAL INFORMATION

The Company is a highly integrated petrochemical enterprise which processes crude oil into petroleum products, intermediate petrochemical products, resins & plastics, fibre polymers and synthetic fibre.

7. APPROVAL PROCEDURES

The Continuing Connected Transactions were approved by the Directors at the 17th meeting of the sixth session of the Board. Directors Mr Rong Guangdao, Mr Du Chongjun, Mr Wu Haijun, Mr Lei Dianwu and Mr Xiang Hanyin who were deemed interested in these transactions as they work in companies which are connected persons of the Company, abstained from voting at the Board meeting.

Pursuant to the Shanghai Listing Rules, prior to the approval by the Board, information relating to the Renewed Framework Agreements and the Continuing Connected Transactions was submitted to the independent non-executive Directors for review and approval. The independent non-executive Directors of the Company considered that the terms of the Renewed Framework Agreements and the Continuing Connected Transactions are on normal commercial terms, fair and reasonable as far as the Company and its Shareholders as a whole are concerned, and do no harm to the interests of the Company or minority shareholders.

Pursuant to the Hong Kong Listing Rules, as the relevant percentage ratios of the continuing connected transactions under the Renewed Comprehensive Services Framework Agreement are expected to be less than 5%, the Independent Board Committee is not required to opine on such continuing connected transactions, but only need to opine on the continuing connected transactions under the Renewed Mutual Product and Sale Services Framework Agreement. Prior to the approval of such continuing connected transactions by the Independent Board Committee, information relating to the Renewed Mutual Product and Sale Services Framework Agreement and the continuing connected transactions thereunder was submitted to the Independent Board Committee for review and approval. Independent Board Committee's opinion will be included in the circular to H shareholders.

Table of Contents

The Renewed Framework Agreements and the Continuing Connected Transactions thereunder as well as the annual caps for the three years ending 31 December 2011, 2012 and 2013 will be subject to approval at the EGM of the Company. Shareholders who are interested in the Continuing Connected Transactions (being China Petroleum & Chemical Corporation and its associates) will abstain from voting at the EGM of the Company.
