GOL Begins Selling Air Tickets in Kiosks

in São Paulo Subway Stations

New sales channel is part of the Company's strategy for the country's middle class

São Paulo, March 10, 2011 On March 1, GOL Linhas Aéreas Inteligentes S.A. (BM&FBovespa: GOLL4 e NYSE: GOL), (S&P/Fitch: BB-/BB-, Moody's: Ba3), the largest low-cost and low-fare airline in Latin America, is launching in this month of March an innovative model for selling tickets, mainly targeting Brazil's emerging middle class. The Company is opening kiosks, christened VOE GOL, in the Itaquera, Sé and Luz subway stations in the city of São Paulo.

Positioned in strategic locations inside the stations, the new points of sale will be run by GOL employees who have been specially trained to meet the profile of the typical subway user. Members of the public will not only be able to buy tickets at the kiosks, they will also be able to alter or cancel their reservations, clear up any doubts and acquire informative material, all of which with full customer support.

The kiosks will complement our successful strategy for attracting the C and D income groups, which was launched in Brazil as a pioneering initiative when GOL itself started up, explained Claudia Pagnano, GOL's Market Vice-President. We are the most innovative airline in the country, constantly offering special promotions and creative products. As early as 2005, we launched VOE FÁCIL, the first program to offer tickets payable in up to 36 installments, and the kiosks represent yet another step on the Company's innovation journey.

Thanks to the new sales channel, GOL expects to transport even more passengers from the emerging middle class. The new identity comprises items referring to airports, as well as illustrations showing the main phases of a flight, declared Claudia. Our idea is to immerse the C and D groups in the world of aviation.

GOL has trained the kiosk teams in a differentiated manner, through a consulting firm which specializes in popular consumption. For 20 days, they attended courses where they learned about the habits of the emerging middle class, as well as selling techniques and language skills. Based on detailed studies, the Company believes in the success of the new sales channel and is currently looking into the possibility of expanding the concept to other stations.

Special promotion

GOL also created a special promotion to launch the kiosks. Until March 19, 2011, passengers who purchase return tickets for domestic flights originating in Guarulhos international airport, in São Paulo, will only pay R$10 for their return leg, and will also receive an additional 10kg baggage allowance. The promotion is only valid for tickets purchased through the new sales channel and for flights taking place between March 15 and April 30, 2011.
