The approval of the amendment to our Restated Articles of Incorporation will require the affirmative vote, either in person or by proxy, of the holders of shares representing 67% of the outstanding shares of Common Stock. Abstentions and broker non-votes will be included in the calculation of a quorum and will have the effect of a vote against the approval of the amendment to our Restated Articles of Incorporation.

What vote is required to approve the issuance and sale of Common Stock?

Edgar Filing: PENN TREATY AMERICAN CORP - Form PRE 14A

The approval of the issuance and sale of Common Stock will require the affirmative vote, either in person or by proxy, of shares representing at least a majority of the votes cast at the Special Meeting, provided that the total vote cast on the proposal represents over 50% of the outstanding shares of Common Stock. Abstentions and broker non-votes will be included in the calculation of a quorum but will have no effect on the result of the vote.

Abstentions and broker non-votes will be included in the calculation of a quorum but will have no effect on the result of the vote.

Can I change my vote after I return my proxy card?

Yes. Even after you have submitted your proxy card, you may change your vote at any time before the proxy is exercised by filing with the Secretary of Penn Treaty either a notice of revocation or a duly executed proxy bearing a date later than the date on the proxy you submitted. The powers of the proxy holders to vote your proxy will be suspended if you attend the Special Meeting in person and request to change your vote or vote in person, although attendance at the Special Meeting will not by itself revoke a previously granted proxy.

Who bears the cost of solicitation of proxies?

We bear the cost of preparing, printing, assembling and mailing this Proxy Statement and other material furnished to shareholders in connection with the solicitation of proxies for the Special Meeting. When are shareholder proposals due for the Year 2003 Annual Meeting?

To be included in the proxy statement for Penn Treaty's 2003 Annual Meeting, shareholder proposals must be submitted in writing by December 31, 2002 to: Secretary, Penn Treaty American Corporation, 3440 Lehigh Street, Allentown, PA 18103. If any shareholder wishes to present a proposal at the 2003 Annual Meeting that is not included in Penn Treaty's proxy statement for that Annual Meeting and does not submit such proposal to the Secretary of Penn Treaty until after March 17, 2003, then the persons named in the proxy card for the 2003 Annual Meeting will be allowed to use their discretionary voting authority when the proposal is raised at the 2003 Annual Meeting, without any discussion of the matter in the proxy statement for that meeting.

PROPOSAL I - AMENDMENT TO PENN TREATY'S
RESTATED ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION, AS AMENDED
-----

Penn Treaty is seeking to amend its Restated Articles of Incorporation, as amended, to increase the aggregate number of authorized shares of Common Stock from 40 million shares to 80 million shares.

Why do we need to increase the aggregate number of authorized shares of Common Stock to 80 million shares?

In February 2002, we received the approval of the Pennsylvania Insurance Department of a Corrective Action Plan for two of our subsidiaries, Penn Treaty Network America Insurance Company and American Network Insurance Company. As a result, we have recommenced sales of our long-term care insurance products in Pennsylvania and 30 other states. The principal component of the Corrective Action Plan was a Reinsurance Agreement with Centre Solutions (Bermuda), Limited, a subsidiary of Zurich Financial Services Group, pursuant to which Centre Solutions agreed to reinsure 100% of the long-term care insurance policies of Penn Treaty Network America Insurance Company and American Network Insurance Company currently in-force, subject to an aggregate limit of liability. In connection with the Reinsurance Agreement, we granted Centre Solutions three tranches of warrants to purchase shares of non-voting convertible preferred stock that, if converted, would represent up to 15% of our outstanding shares of Common Stock at the time of conversion, and another tranche of warrants, exercisable if we do not commute the reinsurance agreement on December 31, 2007, to purchase shares of non-voting convertible preferred stock that, if converted, would represent an additional 20% of our outstanding shares of Common Stock at the time of conversion. If the four tranches of warrants are exercised and all of the underlying convertible preferred stock is converted, we will be required to issue shares of Common Stock representing approximately 35% of the outstanding Common Stock after conversion.

On August 28, 2002, we commenced an offer to issue our Exchange Notes for all outstanding Subordinated Notes. Following the issuance of the Exchange Notes, we will be obligated to issue Common Stock upon the conversion of the Exchange Notes and any unexchanged Subordinated Notes. We currently have enough shares available to issue Common Stock upon the exercise of all outstanding options granted pursuant to our stock option plans and the conversion of our convertible preferred stock issuable upon exercise of the four tranches of warrants granted to Centre Solutions, but we do not have enough shares available for issuance to satisfy these obligations and our obligation to issue shares of Common Stock upon the conversion of the Exchange Notes and any unexchanged Subordinated Notes. We need to increase the number of shares of Common Stock available for issuance to have sufficient shares available to satisfy all of our obligations to issue Common Stock. In addition, we expect to offer shares of our Common Stock in the future for capital raising purposes. (See Proposal II.)

Is there an alternative plan if the proposed amendment to our Restated Articles of Incorporation is not adopted?

In the event that our shareholders do not approve an appropriate increase in the number of shares of our Common Stock authorized for issuance, we have agreed to pay Exchange Note holders who desire to convert their Exchange Notes an amount in cash equal to the market price of the shares of Common Stock into which the Exchange Notes are then convertible. However, our financial resources may not be sufficient to pay cash to converting holders of Exchange Notes in lieu of delivering Common Stock. We can make no assurance that sufficient funds will be available when necessary to make any required cash payments in lieu of delivering Common Stock to Exchange Note holders seeking to convert their Exchange Notes into shares of Common Stock.

What is Penn Treaty's Board of Directors position on authorizing additional shares?

Our Board believes that authorizing additional shares is integral to our financial health and is in our best interests. If the shareholders do not approve the amendment to our Restated Articles of Incorporation to increase the number of shares of Common Stock available for issuance, our financial health will be adversely affected. We will be required to pay cash to converting Exchange Note holders in lieu of delivering Common Stock, and we may not have sufficient funds to make such cash payments. In addition, if we do not receive shareholder approval for the increase in the number of shares of Common Stock authorized for issuance, going forward we will be limited in the amount of capital we can raise through offerings of Common Stock. Because we expect to raise additional capital in the future for various corporate purposes (see Proposal II) and our means of raising any required capital will be limited, the Board believes the failure to adopt this Proposal could have a material adverse effect on our financial prospects.

What other potential uses are there for the additional shares of Common Stock?

The increase in the authorized number of shares of Common Stock is being proposed because we need to have shares of Common Stock available to issue upon the conversion of the Exchange Notes so as to avoid paying cash to converting Exchange Note holders in lieu of delivering Common Stock and because the Board of Directors believes that it is advisable to have authorized but unissued shares of Common Stock available for various corporate purposes. We expect from time to time to consider public or private financings, acquisitions, and stock dividends or stock splits, all of which may involve the issuance of additional shares of Common Stock or securities convertible into Common Stock (see Proposal II). In addition, the authorized capital stock could be used for stock options, warrants, employee benefit plans, shareholder rights plans (which could contain anti-takeover measures) and other distributions. The Board of Directors believes that having authority to issue additional shares of Common Stock without, except as required by law, obtaining specific shareholder approval will avoid the possible delay of calling and holding a special meeting of shareholders to increase Penn Treaty's authorized capital at the time a transaction may be proposed, so as to enhance our ability to take prompt advantage of market conditions and to respond promptly to any future opportunities.

Although the proposed amendment to our Restated Articles of Incorporation is not intended to be an anti-takeover measure and we have no plan to use the unissued shares for such a purpose, shareholders should note that, under certain circumstances, the additional shares of Common Stock could be used to make any attempt to gain control of Penn Treaty or the Board of Directors more difficult or time-consuming. The proposed amendment might be considered to have the effect of discouraging an attempt by another person or entity, through the acquisition of a substantial number of shares of our Common Stock, to acquire control of Penn Treaty, because the issuance of the additional shares of Common Stock could be used to dilute the stock ownership of a person or entity seeking to obtain control and to increase the cost to a person or entity seeking to acquire a majority of the voting power of Penn Treaty. If so used, the effect of the additional authorized shares of Common Stock might be (i) to deprive shareholders of an opportunity to sell their stock at a higher price as a result of a tender offer or other purchase of shares by a person seeking to obtain control of Penn Treaty or (ii) to assist incumbent management in retaining its present position.

The Articles do contain certain provisions intended to be anti-takeover in nature including provisions: (i) creating a staggered Board of Directors, divided into three classes, each of which is comprised of three directors elected for a three-year term with one class being elected each year; (ii) requiring the approval of 67% of the voting power of the stock entitled to vote in the election of directors to remove directors without cause; (iii) requiring the affirmative vote of shareholders owning at least 67% of the outstanding shares of the Common Stock in order for us to: (a) amend, repeal or add any provision to the Articles; (b) merge or consolidate with another corporation, other than a wholly owned subsidiary; (c) exchange shares of the Common Stock in such a manner that a corporation, person or entity acquires the issued or outstanding shares of Common Stock pursuant to a vote of shareholders; (d) sell, lease, convey, encumber or otherwise dispose of all or substantially all of the property or business of Penn Treaty; or (e) liquidate or dissolve Penn Treaty; and (iv) permitting the Board of Directors to oppose a tender offer or other offer for Penn Treaty's securities, and allowing the Board of Directors to consider any pertinent issue in determining whether to oppose any such offer. In addition, our By-laws require shareholders to give timely written notice to Penn Treaty and to provide certain information with respect to any candidate nominated by shareholders for election as a director of Penn Treaty.

The 1988 Pennsylvania Business Corporation Law, as amended (the "BCL"), also contains certain shareholder protection provisions applicable to Penn Treaty that may have an anti-takeover effect including: (i) a "control transaction" provision that allows holders of voting shares of a corporation to "put" their stock to an acquiror for fair value in the event of a control transaction (the acquisition of 20% of the voting stock of the corporation);

Edgar Filing: PENN TREATY AMERICAN CORP - Form PRE 14A

(ii) an "interested shareholder" provision that precludes the beneficial owner of 20% of the voting stock of a corporation or certain affiliates of the corporation from engaging in a business combination with the corporation for a period of five years unless: (a) the board approves the business combination or the acquisition of shares in advance, (b) all of the shareholders approve the business combination or (c) if the interested shareholder owns 80% of such stock, the business combination is approved by a majority of the disinterested shareholders and the transaction satisfies certain "fair price" provisions; (iii) a provision authorizing corporations to adopt shareholders' rights plans with discriminatory provisions (sometimes referred to as poison pills) which take effect only in the event of a control transaction; (iv) a provision allowing directors taking action with respect to a tender offer or takeover proposal to consider the effects of any action upon employees, suppliers, customers, communities where the corporation is located and all other pertinent factors when determining whether the action is in the best interests of the corporation; and (v) a provision removing the statutory right of shareholders to call special meetings of shareholders or to propose amendments to the articles of incorporation.

The foregoing provisions may discourage certain types of transactions that involve a change of control of Penn Treaty and ensure a measure of continuity in the management of the business and affairs of Penn Treaty. Although we do not currently have a shareholders' rights plan or poison pill, the effect of the above-described provisions may be to deter hostile takeovers at a price higher than the prevailing market price for the Common Stock and to permit current management to remain in control of Penn Treaty.

In addition to the provisions of the BCL, the insurance laws and regulations of Pennsylvania, which are applicable to Penn Treaty, provide, among other things, that without the consent of the insurance commissioner of Pennsylvania, no person may acquire control of Penn Treaty and that any person or holder of shares of Common Stock or securities convertible into such Common Stock possessing 10% or more of the aggregate voting power of the Common Stock (inclusive of shares issuable upon conversion of all such convertible securities) will be presumed to have acquired such control unless such insurance commissioner, upon application, has determined otherwise.

The holders of Common Stock have no preemptive rights to purchase additional shares of Common Stock.

If the amendment to Penn Treaty's Restated Articles of Incorporation is approved, how will the newly authorized Common Stock be issued?

If the proposed amendment is approved, our Board of Directors will have the authority to issue additional shares of Common Stock to such persons and for such consideration as it may determine without further action by the shareholders, except as required by law, our Restated Articles of Incorporation or the rules of any stock exchange or national interdealer quotation system on which our securities may then be listed. Depending on the circumstances, any issuance of additional shares of Common Stock may dilute the present equity ownership of current shareholders.

What is the language of the proposed amendment to our Restated Articles of Incorporation?

If the proposed amendment to our Restated Articles of Incorporation is approved by the shareholders at the Special Meeting, the first paragraph of Article FIFTH of the Restated Articles of Incorporation will be amended and restated so that such first paragraph of such Article FIFTH shall be and read in its entirety as follows:

"FIFTH: The aggregate number of shares which the Corporation shall have authority to issue is 80,000,000 shares of common stock, par value $.10 per share ("Common Stock"); and 5,000,000 shares of preferred stock, par value $1.00 per share ("Preferred Stock").

No other changes will be required to the current Article FIFTH of the Restated Articles of Incorporation.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS THAT YOU VOTE FOR THE ADOPTION OF THE PROPOSED AMENDMENT TO OUR RESTATED ARTICLES OF INCORPORATION.

PROPOSAL II - APPROVAL OF ISSUANCE AND SALE OF COMMON STOCK

---

Why are we seeking approval to issue and sell Common Stock?

We are seeking shareholder approval to issue and sell up to 10,000,000 shares of Common Stock on or before May 31, 2003 on terms to be determined by the Board of Directors to give us flexibility in raising capital over the next several months. Over the next several months, we expect from time to time to undertake public or private offerings which probably will involve the issuance and sale of additional shares of Common Stock. Of course, we would seek to do any such financings on the best financial terms available to us, but such terms may include a price that is less than the book or market value of our Common Stock.

Under the New York Stock Exchange rules, we are required to obtain shareholder approval prior to the issuance and sale of Common Stock, or securities convertible into or exercisable for Common Stock, in any transaction or series of related transactions if: (1) the Common Stock has, or will have upon issuance, voting power equal to or in excess of 20% of the voting power outstanding before the issuance of such stock or of securities convertible into or exercisable for Common Stock; or (2) the number of shares of Common Stock to be issued is, or will be upon issuance, equal to or in excess of 20% of the number of shares of Common Stock outstanding before the issuance of the Common Stock or of securities convertible into or exercisable for Common Stock. Such shareholder approval is not required for any issuance involving (1) a public offering for cash; or (2) any bona fide private financing, if such financing involves a sale of: (a) Common Stock, for cash, at a price at least as great as each of the book and market value of our Common Stock; or (b) securities convertible into or exercisable for Common Stock, for cash, if the conversion or exercise price is at least as great as each of the book and market value of our Common Stock.

In the event that we elect to do a private financing on terms including a price that is less than the book or market value of our Common Stock, obtaining shareholder approval of such a transaction now will avoid the possible delay of calling and holding a special meeting of shareholders to approve such a transaction. Avoiding such a delay would enhance our ability to take prompt advantage of market conditions and allow us to do such a transaction on more favorable terms than if the transaction were subject to shareholder approval.

What steps have we taken with respect to the issuance and sale of Common Stock?

We have engaged an investment banker to advise us with respect to the feasibility of raising capital through a public or private offering of securities. No decision has been reached about whether such an offering should be pursued, and there is no assurance that, if we decide to pursue any such offering, capital will be available to us on terms which we find acceptable.

What will be the terms of the Common Stock?

The terms of any Common Stock issued and sold will be the same as the terms of our existing Common Stock. The Common Stock will not have preemptive rights.

In what type of transaction would the Common Stock be issued and sold?

The type and terms of any transaction in which the Common Stock would be sold, including the nature and amount of any consideration to be received by us and the use of any net proceeds, will be determined by the Board of Directors without any further shareholder approval.

What effect, if any, does the approval of the issuance and sale of Common Stock have upon the rights of existing security holders?

In the event that we issue and sell additional shares of Common Stock, the present equity ownership of current holders of our Common Stock will be diluted. In addition, the market price of our Common Stock may be adversely affected by the issuance of additional shares of Common Stock.

THE BOARD OF DIRECTORS RECOMMENDS THAT YOU VOTE FOR THE APPROVAL OF THE ISSUANCE AND SALE OF COMMON STOCK.

PROPOSAL III - RATIFICATION AND APPROVAL OF ISSUANCE
-----
OF EXCHANGE NOTES AND UNDERLYING SHARES OF COMMON STOCK
-----

What is the title and amount of the securities for which Penn Treaty is seeking shareholder approval and ratification?

We are seeking shareholder approval and ratification for the issuance of up to $74.75 million aggregate principal amount of 6 1/4% Convertible Subordinated Notes due 2008 (convertible at a conversion price of $5.31 per share), which we refer to throughout this document as the Exchange Notes. In addition, we are seeking approval of the issuance of up to approximately 14,077,213 shares of Common Stock upon the conversion of the Exchange Notes.

Why is Penn Treaty seeking shareholder approval and ratification for the issuance of the Exchange Notes?

We are seeking shareholder approval and ratification for the issuance of the Exchange Notes and the shares of Common Stock issuable upon conversion of the Exchange Notes in accordance with the rules of the New York Stock Exchange.

Edgar Filing: PENN TREATY AMERICAN CORP - Form PRE 14A

What is Penn Treaty's purpose for issuing the Exchange Notes?

On August 28, 2002, we commenced an offer to exchange all of our currently outstanding Subordinated Notes for newly issued Exchange Notes. Prior to commencement of the exchange offer, $74.75 million principal amount of Subordinated Notes was outstanding. We are offering to issue an Exchange Note of a principal amount equal to the principal amount of each Subordinated Note that is properly tendered and not withdrawn in the exchange offer. If 100% of the outstanding Subordinated Notes are exchanged in this exchange offer, Penn Treaty will issue approximately $74.75 million aggregate principal amount of Exchange Notes. The exchange offer is being made pursuant to an Offering Circular and related Letter of Transmittal, which are included as exhibits (a)(1) and (a)(2), respectively, to the Schedule TO we filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on August 28, 2002, and a Supplement to the Exchange Offer, which is included as exhibit (a)(11) to Amendment No. 2 to the Schedule TO we filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission on September 13, 2002.

What are the significant differences between the Exchange Notes and the Subordinated Notes?

Our Exchange Notes will rank senior to our Subordinated Notes but are similar to the Subordinated Notes in many respects. The terms of our Exchange Notes that differ significantly from the terms of our Subordinated Notes are the maturity date, conversion price, mandatory conversion provision, terms of redemption and the amount of a judgment against Penn Treaty that will constitute an event of default under the indenture. Our Exchange Notes mature on October 15, 2008 and are convertible at a price of $5.31 per share. By contrast, our Subordinated Notes mature December 1, 2003 and are convertible at a price of $28.44 per share. Our Exchange Notes automatically convert into shares of our Common Stock if the average closing share price of our Common Stock is equal to at least $5.84 during any 15 consecutive trading days beginning on or after October 15, 2004 and we have sufficient shares of Common Stock available for issuance. Conversion of the Subordinated Notes is not mandatory. If all holders of Subordinated Notes converted their Subordinated Notes, we would have to issue approximately 2,628,340 shares of Common Stock. By contrast, if all holders of the Subordinated Notes exchanged their Subordinated Notes for Exchange Notes and subsequently converted those Exchange Notes, we would have to issue approximately 14,077,213 shares of Common Stock. We may redeem any or all of the Exchange Notes at any time on or after October 15, 2004 at a price equal to the principal amount plus accrued unpaid interest. Our Subordinated Notes are currently redeemable at a price equal to 101.04% of the principal amount plus accrued unpaid interest and will be redeemable on or after December 1, 2002 at a price equal to the principal amount plus accrued unpaid interest. In addition, the amount of a judgment or decree entered by a court of competent jurisdiction against us or our subsidiaries that will, after deducting the portion accepted by an insurance company, trigger an event of default under the indenture has been increased from $10 million for the Subordinated Notes to $25 million for the Exchange Notes.

Why is Penn Treaty making the exchange offer?

Our Board of Directors believes that an important issue we face is the uncertainty surrounding our ability to satisfy our obligations under the Subordinated Notes, including our obligation to pay the principal amount of the Subordinated Notes to Subordinated Note holders on December 1, 2003. Given our current financial condition, it is unlikely that we would be able to satisfy these obligations under the Subordinated Notes with cash. [We are making the exchange offer in an effort to mitigate uncertainty and believe that extending the maturity of these obligations will significantly increase the likelihood that we will be able to satisfy them when they become due. Our Board believes that successful consummation of the exchange offer should:

- o reduce the uncertainty surrounding our ability to satisfy our obligations, which we expect would improve our stock price performance and thereby increase the effective return on the Exchange Notes provided in exchange for the Subordinated Notes;
- o enhance our ability to obtain financing for working capital, new policy sales, capital expenditures and other needs;
- o enhance our competitive position by increasing the confidence of our sales force and policyholders and causing regulatory authorities to regard our financial condition as strengthened;
- o enhance our credit profile with A.M. Best Company, Inc. and Standard & Poor's Insurance Rating Services; and
- o improve our ability to adjust in a timely fashion to changing market conditions.

What effect, if any, does the issuance have upon the rights of existing security holders?

In the event that a significant amount of the outstanding Exchange Notes are converted into Common Stock, the issuance of such additional shares of Common Stock will dilute the present equity ownership of current shareholders. The holders of Common Stock have no preemptive rights to purchase additional shares of Common Stock. In addition, the remaining Subordinated Notes still outstanding after the close of the exchange offer and the issuance of the Exchange Notes will be subordinated to the Exchange Notes.

Is Penn Treaty in default upon the payment of any interest or principal due under the Subordinated Notes?

We are not now in default nor have we ever defaulted upon the payment of any interest or principal due under the Subordinated Notes.

The table on the following page compares the primary terms of the existing Subordinated Notes and the Exchange Notes that will be issued and outstanding following completion of the exchange offer.
