their four options which now results in the Murphy drilling program for the ATWOOD SOUTHERN CROSS being the drilling of four firm wells with options to drill two additional wells. The rig has commenced drilling of the third of the now four firm wells, with a dayrate of $40,000 for these two remaining wells. Taking into account the two remaining firm wells, the drilling program could extend into October 2004. Immediately upon completion of its current drilling program, the rig will commence its contract with Daewoo International Corporation involving two firm wells and an option for an additional well offshore Myanmar.

Sarawak Shell Berhad ("Shell") has exercised the first of their three options which now results in the Shell drilling program for the ATWOOD FALCON including three firm wells with options to drill two additional wells. If no additional options are exercised, the Shell drilling program is anticipated to extend into January 2004.

Additional information with respect to the Company's Contract Status Summary at August 4, 2004 is attached hereto as Exhibit 99.1 which is being furnished in accordance with Rule 101(e)(1) under Regulation FD and should not be deemed to be filed.

Statements contained in this report with respect to the future are forward-looking statements. These statements reflect management's reasonable judgment with respect to future events. Forward-looking statements involve risks and uncertainties. Actual results could differ materially from those anticipated as a result of various factors: the Company's dependence on the oil and gas industry; the risks involved in the construction of a rig; competition; operating risks; risks involved in foreign operations; risks associated with possible disruption in operations due to terrorism; risks associated with a possible disruption in operations due to war; and governmental regulations and environmental matters. A list of additional risk factors can be found in the Company's annual report on Form 10-K for the year ended September 30, 2003, filed with the Securities and Exchange Commission.
