External growth of 3.8% was primarily the result of acquisitions made by Veolia Transport in France and the United States (a combined contribution of around €443 million) and Veolia Environmental Services in the United Kingdom (a contribution of around €215 million). Revenue from outside France stood at €15,217.4 million, or 53.2% of the total compared with 51.3% in 2005.

WATER

At Dec. 31, 2006 (€m)	Adjusted at Dec. 31, 2005 (€m){3}	% change 2006/2005	Internal growth	External growth	Currency effect
10,087.6	9,134.2	10.4%	9.1%	1.2%	0.1%

- In France, internal revenue growth was 3.6%, excluding Veolia Water Solutions & Technologies, due to a good performance of the distribution businesses as well as further growth in the engineering business.

(1) Revenue from ordinary activities under IFRS accounting

(2) To ensure comparability, financial statements at December 31, 2005 were restated for:

- the application of the IFRIC12 interpretation on the accounting treatment of concessions
- the amount of revenue from ordinary activities of Veolia Transport in Denmark, booked in 2006 under the IFRS5 standard and presented in the income statement in the "net income of discontinued operations" line.

- (3) Financial statements at December 31, 2005 were restated for:
- the application of the IFRIC12 interpretation on the accounting treatment of concessions.

- Outside France, excluding Veolia Water Solutions & Technologies and Proactiva, revenue grew 13.6% (11.8% on a like-for-like basis). In Europe, revenue growth of 11.4% was driven by the start-up of new contracts, in particular in Germany (the Braunschweig municipal contract), in the Czech Republic (Hradec Kralove and Prostějov) and in Slovakia (Poprad and Banská Bystrica). In the Asia-Pacific region, strong revenue growth of 36.2% (of which 26.9% was internal growth) was mainly driven by new contracts signed in China (Hohhot, Changzhou, Kunming and Urumqi in the municipal sector). External growth in this region was the result of Veolia Water's increased stake in the Adelaide contract in Australia and small acquisitions in Japan. The Company is continuing its expansion in Africa and the Middle East where growth exceeded 12%. In North America, revenue grew 6.7% for the full-year on a like-for-like basis.
- Veolia Water Solutions and Technologies posted revenue growth of 17.8% on a like-for-like basis, driven in particular by a sharp upturn in the engineering and construction businesses in France, the Middle East and the United States. Including acquisitions made during the year, revenue growth totaled 21.8% .

ENVIRONMENTAL SERVICES (WASTE MANAGEMENT)

At Dec. 31, 2006 (€m)	Adjusted at Dec. 31, 2005 (€m)*	% change 2006/2005	Internal growth	External growth	Currency effect
7,462.9	6,748.7	10.6%	7.6%	3.5%	-0.5%

In the Environmental Services (waste management) business, revenue in France grew 4.1% (of which 3.7% was internal growth), driven by the combined effect of the growing contribution of new incineration plants and the increased tonnages of solid waste collected and treated under high value added service contracts.

Outside France, excluding Proactiva, internal growth was 10.8% . It was particularly strong (13.2%) in the United States in all business lines. In the United Kingdom, overall growth totaled 34.2% (of which 6.9% was internal growth), driven by the acquisition of Cleanaway UK, completed on September 28, 2006 and by the general development of the business within a growing market. In Asia, the start-up of the Foshan and Guangzhou-Likeng contracts made a significant contribution to revenue growth of 14%.

ENERGY

At Dec. 31, 2006 (€m)	Adjusted at Dec. 31, 2005 (€m)*	% change 2006/2005	Internal growth	External growth	Currency effect
6,118.4	5,463.6	12.0%	10.0%	1.5%	0.5%

Revenue growth totaled 12% of which 10% was internal growth. The full-year impact of the rise in energy prices was €260 million compared with €226 million during the first nine months of 2006. Excluding this effect, revenue growth was 7.2% .

The business was subject to contrasting weather conditions over the course of the year. While the beginning of the year had experienced more harsh temperatures than the average, the end of the year, on the contrary, was warmer than the seasonal norms.

(*) Financial statements at December 31, 2005 were restated for:

- the application of the IFRIC12 interpretation on the accounting treatment of concessions, in order to ensure comparability between fiscal years.

Edgar Filing: VEOLIA ENVIRONNEMENT - Form 6-K

- In France, internal growth of 8.2% resulted primarily from the increase in energy prices in the first quarter of the year, the start-up of new contracts and an upturn in the engineering business.
- Outside France, revenue growth totaled 17.0% of which 12.6% was internal growth. It was primarily driven by the full effect of the Lodz contract (Poland), favorable pricing in Central Europe as well as acquisitions in Italy and Brazil.

VEOLIA TRANSPORT

At Dec. 31, 2006 (€m)	Adjusted at Dec. 31, 2005 (€m){*}	% change 2006/2005	Internal growth	External growth	Currency effect
4,951.5	4,223.9	17.2%	4.7%	12.9%	-0.4%

- In France, revenue growth was 12.7%, driven by the contribution of SNCM (approximately €200 million). The end of the Toulouse contract was offset by the positive impact of new contracts in the field of urban and intercity transit systems, and by the good performance of other business lines.
- Outside France, revenue advanced by 20.4% of which 7.6% was internal growth. External growth was mainly due to acquisitions made in the United States (ATC and Shuttleport) and in Norway (Helgelandiske).

The strong growth of revenue in 2006 further underscores the relevance of the Company's strategic and geographical choices and enables it to confirm its objectives for 2006.
