the quarter reflected inventory shortages in select areas as we emerged from the holiday season, as well as the expected seasonal shift in product category volumes. Although we continued to see increases in store traffic versus the prior year, comparable store sales increases for January and February combined were in the low single digits. While inventory shortages and limited selections plagued some product categories after December, we were pleased to see strong sales trends continue in focus categories such as big-screen televisions, digital satellite systems and wireless phones, as well as in expanded categories, including video game hardware, software and accessories; DVD software and digital cameras."

The percent of merchandise sales represented by each major product category for the fourth quarter and the fiscal year was as follows:

Circuit City Group Fourth Quarter and Fiscal Year 2002 Earnings Expectations: "We plan to release fourth quarter and fiscal year 2002 earnings on April 2," said McCollough. "We remain comfortable with our recent guidance for the fourth quarter and fiscal year 2002 earnings. We still expect the Circuit City business to contribute 68 cents per share to 71 cents per share to the Circuit City Group's fourth quarter earnings, before additional lease termination costs of 3 cents per share related to the fiscal 2001 exit from the appliance business."

The company confirmed today that it expects CarMax to contribute approximately 6 cents to the Circuit City Group's fourth quarter earnings per share. This contribution, combined with the contribution from the Circuit City business, including the lease termination costs, would result in fourth quarter earnings per share of 71 cents to 74 cents for the Circuit City Group.

The company expects the Circuit City business to contribute 62 cents to 65 cents to fiscal year 2002 Circuit City Group earnings per share before the additional lease termination costs and before the contribution from CarMax. Including the 3 cents per share of additional lease termination costs and an anticipated contribution from CarMax of approximately 31 cents per

CarMax Group

CarMax Group Sales: Total sales for the CarMax Group rose 22 percent for the quarter ended February 28, 2002, to $779.3 million from $640.0 million in the same period last year. Comparable store dollar sales rose 23 percent, and comparable store unit sales rose 22 percent. Comparable store used-vehicle dollar sales rose 25 percent, and comparable store used-vehicle unit sales rose 23 percent. Comparable store new-vehicle dollar sales rose 12 percent, and comparable store new-vehicle unit sales rose 11 percent.

For the fiscal year ended February 28, 2002, total sales for the CarMax Group rose 28 percent to $3.20 billion from $2.50 billion in the prior year. Comparable store dollar sales rose 28 percent, and comparable store unit sales rose 23 percent. Comparable store used-vehicle dollar sales rose 30 percent, and comparable store used-vehicle unit sales rose 24 percent. Comparable store new-vehicle dollar sales rose 24 percent, and comparable store new-vehicle unit sales rose 21 percent.

"Our fourth quarter sales increase reflects a continuation of the strong used-car unit sales growth we experienced through the first nine months of the fiscal year," said W. Austin Ligon, president of CarMax. "New-car unit growth and used-car unit growth received an above-trend boost in December from customers drawn into the market by the new-car manufacturers' zero-percent financing incentives. Once manufacturers largely replaced zero-percent financing with more conventional incentives in early January, our customer-preferred approach to automobile retailing continued to drive used-car unit sales growth for the January and February period in line with the 20 percent level we saw in the first half of the year. Although new-car unit sales declined in January roughly in line with the industry decline, comparable store new-car unit sales grew modestly in February."

Store Openings: CarMax opened two superstores at the end of the fourth quarter, the first stores opened as part of the resumption of geographic growth detailed in the expansion plan CarMax announced on March 26, 2001. On February 25, 2002, CarMax opened a satellite superstore in Merrillville, Ind., in the greater Chicago market. On February 26, CarMax entered the mid-sized market of Greensboro, N.C., with a standard-sized superstore.

Fourth Quarter and Fiscal Year 2002 Earnings Expectations: "We now expect fourth quarter net earnings per CarMax Group share of approximately 17 cents, the top end of the range we had estimated when we increased the fourth quarter earnings expectation on February 6, 2002," said Ligon. "Our comparable store used-car unit sales growth continues to generate substantial leverage for fixed expenses and corporate overhead, and we have continued to benefit from a lower cost of funds, which has increased the yield spreads for our finance operation. We also were fortunate to experience no major negative effect on sales from winter weather conditions during the fourth quarter." Earnings per share reported for the CarMax Group in the fourth quarter of the prior fiscal year were 7 cents.

"For the fiscal year, we expect earnings per CarMax Group share of approximately 82 cents compared with the prior year's earnings per share of 43 cents," Ligon said. "We plan to announce our sales, earnings and new-store opening expectations for the new fiscal year, fiscal 2003, when the company releases fourth quarter and year-end earnings on April 2, 2002."
