Item 4.02(a). Non-Reliance on Previously Issued Financial Statements or a Related Audit Report or Completed Interim Review.

On November 24, 2009, the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors of RAM Energy Resources, Inc. (RAM or the Company) concluded that the Company would restate its financial statements as of and for (i) the fiscal year ended December 31, 2008, (ii) the three months ended March 31, 2009, (iii) the three and six months ended June 30, 2009, and (iv) the three and nine months ended September 30, 2009, after identifying certain non-cash errors in such financial statements caused by the fact that (a) the estimate of the Company's proved oil and natural gas reserves for the year ended December 31, 2008 prepared by the Company's independent petroleum engineering firms overstated the net proved reserves by approximately 1.4 million barrels of oil equivalent (MMBoe), and (b) the Company's internal estimate of its proved oil and natural gas reserves for the three months ended March 31, 2009 overstated the net proved reserves by approximately 2.7 MMBoe, with the error in both such reports occurring as the result of the inclusion of certain proved undeveloped properties that were uneconomic based on applicable capital costs and field prices at the end of each period. Due to the error, the future net revenues from the Company's proved oil and natural gas properties discounted at 10%, or PV-10 Value, was understated by $10.7 million at December 31, 2008 and also was understated at March 31, 2009. Because the Company was required to record an impairment charge to its full cost pool at both December 31, 2008 and March 31, 2009 due to the ceiling test limitation, the inclusion of uneconomic properties in the reserve reports resulted in a number of non-cash errors in the Company's financial statements issued as of such dates, including an overstatement of the applicable impairment charge, depreciation and amortization expense and income tax benefit. The error also resulted in an overstatement of the net loss and loss per share recorded for each period. The errors in the Company's reserve reports were limited to the reserve reports prepared for the periods ended December 31, 2008 and March 31, 2009. The error of inclusion of uneconomic properties did not carry forward into the reserve report for the period ended June 30, 2009. However, because of the incorrect impairment charges recorded at year end and at March 31, 2009, the carrying value of the Company's oil and gas properties had been reduced to a greater extent than if the error had not occurred, resulting in the understatement of depreciation and amortization expense and an overstatement of income tax benefit in the second quarter financial statement period, with a corresponding understatement of the net loss recorded for the second quarter of 2009. Effects of the error on the third quarter of 2009 included an understatement of depreciation and amortization expense, an understatement of income tax benefit, and a corresponding understatement of net loss. There was no effect on net cash flows for any affected period.

Upon detecting the reserve report error, the Company analyzed the effect of the resulting errors in the previously issued financial statements and the prospective effect on future financial statements and discussed the matter with its independent public accounting firm. A determination was made by the Company, with which its independent public accounting firm concurred, that the resulting errors in the financial statements were not material and that a restatement of the financial statements should not be required. However, after an extended period of discussion with the staff of the Securities and Exchange Commission concerning both the quantitative and qualitative effects of the errors on the Company's financial statements, both retroactively and prospectively, the Audit Committee of the Board of Directors of the Company determined that it would be in the best interests of the Company and its stockholders to restate the subject financial statements.

Accordingly, the Company plans to file an amended annual report on Form 10-K/A for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2008, and amended quarterly reports on Form 10-Q/A for each of the fiscal quarters ended March 31, June 30 and September 30, 2009, with each such amended report containing a restatement of the consolidated financial statements of the Company for the period indicated. The amended annual report on Form 10-K/A will also include corrected year-end reserve information. The amended reports and the restated financial statements included therein have been discussed with and, in the case of the restated financial statements for the fiscal year ended December 31, 2008, audited by, the Company's independent public accounting firm.

The following tables show the effects of the errors in the originally filed financial statements for each of the subject periods and the adjustments incorporated in the restated financial statements for each such period.
