Forward-looking statements may include, among others, statements relating to our projected consolidated revenue, earnings before interest and taxes, adjusted income (loss) from operations, shareholders' net income and free cash flow, as well as statements relating to projected statutory balance sheets of certain of our subsidiaries; future financial or operating performance, including our ability to deliver personalized and innovative solutions for our customers and clients and future growth, business strategy, strategic or operational initiatives; economic, regulatory or competitive environments, particularly with respect to the pace and extent of change in these areas; financing or capital deployment plans; our prospects for growth in the coming years; statements regarding the proposed merger between Cigna and Anthem, Inc. (Anthem); and other statements regarding Cigna's and Anthem's future beliefs, expectations, plans intentions, financial condition or performance. You may identify forward-looking statements by the use of words such as "believe", "expect", "plan", "intend", "anticipate", "estimate", "predict", "potential", "may", "should", "will" or other words or expressions of similar meaning, although not all forward-looking statements contain such terms.

Forward-looking statements are subject to risks and uncertainties, both known and unknown, that could cause actual results to differ materially from those expressed or implied in forward-looking statements. Such risks and uncertainties include, but are not limited to: our ability to achieve our financial, strategic and operational plans or initiatives; our ability to predict and manage medical costs and price effectively and develop and maintain good relationships with physicians, hospitals and other health care providers; our ability to identify potential strategic acquisitions or transactions and realize the expected benefits of such transactions; the substantial level of government regulation over our business and the potential effects of new laws or regulations, or changes in existing laws or regulations; the outcome of litigation, regulatory audits, investigations and actions and/or guaranty fund assessments; uncertainties surrounding participation in government-sponsored programs such as Medicare; the effectiveness and security of our information technology and other business systems; and unfavorable industry, economic or political conditions, the timing and likelihood of completion of the proposed merger, including the timing, receipt and terms and conditions of any required governmental and regulatory approvals for the proposed merger that could reduce anticipated benefits or cause the parties to abandon the transaction; the possibility that Cigna or Anthem shareholders may not approve the proposed merger; the possibility that the expected synergies and value creation from the proposed merger will not be realized or will not be realized within the expected time period; the risk that the businesses of Cigna and Anthem will not be integrated successfully; disruption from the proposed merger making it more difficult to maintain business and operational relationships; the risk that unexpected costs will be incurred; the possibility that the proposed merger does not close, including due to the failure to satisfy the closing conditions; the risk that financing for the proposed merger may not be available on favorable terms, as well as more specific risks and

You should not place undue reliance on forward-looking statements, which speak only as of the date they are made, are not guarantees of future performance or results, and are subject to risks, uncertainties and assumptions that are difficult to predict or quantify. Cigna undertakes no obligation to update or revise any forward-looking statement, whether as a result of new information, future events or otherwise, except as may be required by law.

CERTAIN UNAUDITED PROSPECTIVE FINANCIAL INFORMATION

In connection with the negotiation of the merger of a wholly owned subsidiary of Anthem, Inc., an Indiana corporation, and Cigna, Cigna’s management prepared certain non-public unaudited financial forecasts. Although Cigna periodically may issue limited public guidance concerning its expected financial performance, Cigna does not, as a matter of course, publicly disclose detailed financial forecasts. However, Cigna will be providing the non-public unaudited financial forecasts in this exhibit 99.1 to the Connecticut Insurance Department. The Connecticut Insurance Department has advised Cigna that it will be making these non-public unaudited financial forecasts available to the public via the Connecticut Insurance Department’s website.

The unaudited financial forecasts were not prepared for the purpose of public disclosure, nor were they prepared in compliance with published guidelines of the Securities and Exchange Commission, the guidelines established by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants for preparation and presentation of financial forecasts, or accounting principles generally accepted in the United States (GAAP). The submission of the unaudited financial forecasts to the Connecticut Insurance Department should not be regarded as an indication that Cigna or any other recipient of the unaudited financial forecasts considered, or now considers, the forecasts to be necessarily material or predictive of actual future results, and the unaudited financial forecasts should not be relied upon as such.

No independent registered public accounting firm has examined, compiled or otherwise performed any procedures with respect to the prospective financial information contained in the unaudited financial forecasts and, accordingly, no independent registered public accounting firm has expressed any opinion or given any other form of assurance with respect thereto, and no independent registered public accounting firm assumes any responsibility for the prospective financial information.

The unaudited financial forecasts were developed for Cigna on a stand-alone basis and do not give effect to any changes to Cigna's operations or strategy that may be implemented in the future. The statutory balance sheets of certain of Cigna's subsidiaries are on an entity-level basis and should not be regarded as representative of Cigna's consolidated financial performance. The projected balance sheets were prepared on a basis consistent with our statutory financial filings in Connecticut with the exception of aggregating several balance sheet line items.

The Cigna financial forecasts reflect numerous assumptions and estimates that Cigna made in good faith, including (1) with respect to the projections of adjusted income (loss) from operations per share and adjusted income (loss) from operations per share including amortization of other acquired intangible assets, per share, that Cigna, as a stand-alone company, would continue to repurchase shares of its common stock in the ordinary course of business, (2) that macroeconomic conditions will remain stable, both in the U.S. and globally, (3) that the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act will not be repealed or defunded, (4) that the interest rate environment will remain stable, (5) that competitor pricing will remain rational, (6) that commercial medical cost trends will be in line with recent experience, (7) that the Medicare Advantage and managed Medicaid rate environments will remain stable and membership in those programs will continue to grow in line with recent trends, (8) that consumers will continue to take on greater decision-making and financial responsibility with respect to their health care and (9) that providers will remain receptive to partnering with Cigna on value-based contracting to reduce the cost of care, improve quality and provide consumers with better health care experiences.

While presented with numeric specificity, the unaudited financial forecasts were based on numerous variables and assumptions that are inherently uncertain and may be beyond the control of Cigna's management. As a result, actual results may differ materially from the unaudited financial forecasts, and there can be no assurance that the forecasts will be realized. Since the forecasts cover multiple years, this information by its nature becomes less meaningful and predictive with each successive year. Cigna has not made and does not make any representation to any shareholder or other person regarding Cigna's ultimate performance compared to the information contained in the unaudited financial forecasts. Disclosure of these internal financial forecasts should not be regarded as an indication that Cigna or its affiliates, advisors or representatives considered these internal financial forecasts to be predictive of actual future results, and these internal financial forecasts should not be relied upon as such nor should the information contained in these internal financial forecasts be considered appropriate for other purposes. Except as may be required under applicable federal securities law, Cigna does not undertake any obligation to update or otherwise revise the unaudited financial forecasts to reflect events or circumstances after the date the forecasts were made, including events or circumstances that may have occurred during the period between that date and the date of the Form 8-K to which this exhibit is attached, or to reflect the occurrence of unanticipated events, even in the event that any or all of the assumptions are shown to be in error.

The following tables present the unaudited financial forecasts that will be made available to the Connecticut Insurance Department:

Cigna Corporation Consolidated Financial Information

	2015E	2016E	2017E	2018E
	(in millions, except per share data; "E" refers to estimated)
Operating revenues(1)	$37,955	$40,876	$45,022	$50,343
Adjusted income (loss) from operations(2)	$2,208	$2,417	$2,698	$2,986
EBIT(3)	$3,631	$3,993	$4,510	$5,011
Adjusted income (loss) from operations, per share(4)	$8.61	$9.66	$11.03	$12.46
Adjusted income (loss) from operations including amortization of other acquired intangible assets, per share(5)	$8.22	$9.30	$10.74	$12.21
Unlevered free cash flow(6)	$1,680	$1,851	$1,912	$1,995

The measures presented above were not determined in accordance with GAAP and should not be considered substitutes for or superior to the following GAAP measures: consolidated revenues, shareholders' net income, and cash flows from operating activities.

- (1) Operating revenues represent consolidated revenues excluding net realized investment results.
- (2) Adjusted income (loss) from operations represents shareholders' net income (loss) excluding the following after-tax adjustments: net realized investment results, amortization of other acquired intangible assets and special items. Aggregate pre-tax amortization of other acquired intangible assets expense was estimated to be $162 million, $144 million, $114 million and $98 million for 2015, 2016, 2017 and 2018, respectively.

Adjusted income (loss) from operations is a measure of profitability used by Cigna's management because it presents the underlying results of operations of Cigna's businesses and permits analysis of trends in underlying revenue, expenses and shareholders' net income.

- (3) EBIT represents adjusted income (loss) from operations before interest expense and income taxes, and includes amortization of other acquired intangible assets.
- (4) Adjusted income (loss) from operations per share is calculated as adjusted income (loss) from operations divided by the projected diluted weighted average Cigna common shares outstanding.
- (5) Adjusted income (loss) from operations including amortization of other acquired intangible assets per share is calculated as adjusted income (loss) from operations including amortization of other acquired intangible assets divided by the projected diluted weighted average Cigna common shares outstanding.

- (6) Unlevered free cash flow represents EBIT plus depreciation and amortization expense and the tax benefit for the deductible portion of amortization, minus income taxes, increases in working capital, pension contributions, capital expenditures and net cash flow retained at subsidiaries to satisfy risk-based capital requirements. For 2015, 2016, 2017, and 2018 depreciation and capital expenditures were each estimated to be an average of $400 million annually and pension contribution was estimated to be an average of $50 million annually. Net cash flow retained at subsidiaries to satisfy risk-based capital requirements was estimated to be $632 million, $668 million, $891 million and $1,102 million for 2015, 2016, 2017, and 2018, respectively.
