ISRAELI RESTRICTIVE TRADE PRACTICES COURT DISMISSES ISRAELI CABLE TELEVISION
OPERATORS' APPEAL

NETANYA, Israel, October 18, 2004. Matav Cable Systems Media Ltd. (Nasdaq: MATV) today announced that the Restrictive Trade Practices Court in Jerusalem, Israel dismissed the Israeli cable television operators' appeal regarding the declaration that the Israeli cable television operators constitute a monopoly in the provision of multi-channel cable television services in Israel.

As previously reported, on November 8, 1999, the Controller of Restrictive Business Practices in Israel (the Controller), declared that Matav and all the other cable television operators in Israel, constitute a monopoly in the provision of multi-channel cable television services, each in their respective areas of operation in Israel. Matav and the other cable television operators in Israel filed an appeal, against this declaration of the Controller, with the Restrictive Business Practices Court. On September 20, 2004, the Restrictive Trade Practices Court dismissed the Israeli cable television operators' appeal. The court's decision was delivered to Matav on October 17, 2004.

As a result of the Controller's declaration and the Restrictive Trade Practices Court's decision, Matav shall continue to be subject to the supervision of the Restrictive Business Practices Authority with respect to limitations applicable to a monopoly according to Israeli Law.

The Israeli cable television operators (including Matav) are reviewing the Restrictive Trade Practices Court's decision and will consider whether to appeal the court's decision.

Matav is one of Israel's three cable television providers, serving roughly 25 percent of the population. Matav's investments include approximately 5.3 percent of Partner Communications Ltd., a GSM mobile phone company, and 10 percent of Barak I.T.C. (1995), one of the three international telephony-service providers in Israel.
