1 CORPORATE AND GROUP INFORMATION

China Eastern Airlines Corporation Limited (the Company), a joint stock company limited by shares, was established in the People's Republic of China (the PRC) on 14 April 1995. The address of the Company's registered office is 66 Airport Street, Pudong International Airport, Shanghai, the PRC. The Company and its subsidiaries (together, the Group) are principally engaged in the operation of civil aviation, including the provision of passenger, cargo, mail delivery, tour operations and other extended transportation services.

In the opinion of the directors, the holding company and ultimate holding company of the Company is China Eastern Air Holding Company Limited (CEA Holding), formerly named as China Eastern Air Holding Company, a state-owned enterprise established in the PRC.

The A shares, H shares and American Depositary Shares are listed on the Shanghai Stock Exchange, The Stock Exchange of Hong Kong Limited and The New York Stock Exchange, respectively.

2 BASIS OF PREPARATION

These financial statements have been prepared in accordance with all applicable International Financial Reporting Standards (IFRSs) issued by the International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) and the disclosure requirements of the Hong Kong Companies Ordinance. They have been prepared under the historical cost convention, except for certain equity investments and derivative financial instruments which have been measured at fair value. Disposal groups held for sale are stated at the lower of their carrying amounts and fair values less costs to sell. These financial statements are presented in Renminbi (RMB) and all values are rounded to the nearest million except when otherwise indicated.

As at 31 December 2018, the Group's current liabilities exceeded its current assets by approximately RMB57.13 billion. In preparing the financial statements, the Board has conducted a detailed review over the Group's going concern ability based on the current financial situation. The Board has considered the Group's available sources of funds as follows:

The Group's expected net cash inflows from operating activities in 2019;

Unutilised banking facilities of approximately RMB56.20 billion as at 31 December 2018; and

Other available sources of financing from banks and other financial institutions given the Group's credit history.

The Board considers that the Group will be able to obtain sufficient financing to enable it to operate, as well as to meet its liabilities as and when they become due, and the capital expenditure requirements for the upcoming twelve months. Accordingly, the Board believes that it is appropriate to prepare these financial statements on a going concern basis without including any adjustments that would be required should the Company and the Group fail to continue as a going concern.

3 CHANGES IN ACCOUNTING POLICIES AND DISCLOSURES

The Group has adopted the following new and revised IFRSs for the first time for the current year's financial statements.

Amendments to IFRS 2	Classification and Measurement of Share-based Payment Transactions
Amendments to IFRS 4	Applying IFRS 9 Financial Instruments with IFRS 4 Insurance Contracts
IFRS 9	Financial Instruments
IFRS 15	Revenue from Contracts with Customers
Amendments to IFRS 15	Clarifications to IFRS 15 Revenue from Contracts with Customers
Amendments to IAS 40	Transfers of Investment Property
IFRIC 22	Foreign Currency Transactions and Advance Consideration
Annual Improvements 2014-2016 Cycle	Amendments to IFRS 1 and IAS 28

Other than the impact of IFRS 9 and IFRS 15, the adoption of the above new and revised standards has had no significant financial effect on these financial statements.

4 OPERATING SEGMENT INFORMATION

(a) CODM, office of the General Manager, reviews the Group's internal reporting in order to assess performance and allocate resources.

The Group has one reportable operating segment, reported as "airline transportation operations", which comprises the provision of passenger, cargo, mail delivery, ground service and cargo handling services.

Other services including primarily tour operations, air catering and other miscellaneous services are not included within the airline transportation operations segment, as their internal reports are separately provided to the CODM. The results of these operations are included in the "other segments" column.

Inter-segment transactions are entered into under normal commercial terms and conditions that would be available to unrelated third parties.

In accordance with IFRS 8, segment disclosure has been presented in a manner that is consistent with the information used by the Group's CODM. The Group's CODM monitors the results, assets and liabilities attributable to each reportable segment based on financial results prepared under the PRC Accounting Standards for Business Enterprises (the "PRC Accounting Standards"), which differ from IFRS in certain aspects. The amount of each material reconciling items from the Group's reportable segment revenues and profit before income tax, arising from different accounting policies are set out in Note 4(c) below.

The segment results for the year ended 31 December 2018 were as follows:

	Airline transportation operations	Other segments	Eliminations	Unallocated*	Total
	RMB million	RMB million	RMB million	RMB million	RMB million

Reportable segment liabilities	165,148	11,301	(5,514)	11	170,946

* Unallocated assets primarily represent investments in associates and joint ventures, derivative financial instruments, equity investments designated at fair value through other comprehensive income and financial asset at fair value through profit or loss. Unallocated results primarily represent the share of results of associates and joint ventures, fair value changes of derivative financial instruments, fair value changes of financial asset at fair value through profit or loss and dividend income relating to equity investments.

- (b) The Group's business operates in three main geographical areas, even though they are managed on a worldwide basis.

The Group's revenues by geographical area are analysed based on the following criteria:

- 1) Traffic revenue from services within Mainland China (the PRC excluding the Hong Kong Special Administrative Region (Hong Kong), Macau Special Administrative Region (Macau) and Taiwan, collectively known as Regional) is classified as domestic operations. Traffic revenue from inbound and outbound services between overseas markets excluding Regional is classified as international operations.
- 2) Revenue from ticket handling services, ground services, cargo handling service and other miscellaneous services are classified on the basis of where the services are performed.

	2018	2017
	RMB million	RMB million
Domestic (the PRC, excluding Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan)	76,517	67,923
International	34,744	30,928
Regional (Hong Kong, Macau and Taiwan)	4,017	3,624
	115,278	102,475

- 3) The major revenue-earning assets of the Group are its aircraft, all of which are registered in the PRC. Since the Group's aircraft are deployed flexibly across its route network, there is no suitable basis of allocating such assets and the related liabilities by geographic area and hence segment non-current assets and capital expenditure by geographic area are not presented. Except the aircraft, most non-current assets (except financial instruments) are registered and located in the PRC.

- (c) Reconciliation of reportable segment revenues, profit, assets and liabilities to the consolidated figures as reported in the consolidated financial statements:

REPORT OF THE BOARD

In 2018, the global economy generally continued to recover, yet with the emergence of the influence of trade protectionism and unilateralism, the growth of the global economy has slowed down. In China, the economy remained in a reasonable range as a whole, whilst facing the pressure of downturn. The global airline industry has continued to grow with a deceleration in growth rate. China's civil aviation industry continued to maintain a more rapid above double-digit growth rate, while at the same time also facing challenges such as rise in fuel average prices, fluctuations in RMB-USD exchange rate, intensifying market competition and resource constraints during important periods.

The Group adhered to maintaining a steady progress, was persistent in demanding high-quality development, forged ahead with determination, tackled the difficulties and pro-actively faced the challenges from complex external environment, achieved smooth progress to promote works such as safe operation, marketing, customer service, reform and transformation. The Group's air passenger transportation business has continued to maintain a rapid growth. In 2018, the Group's passenger transportation capacity was 244,840 million available-seat-kilometres, representing a year-on-year increase of 8.3%; it achieved total passenger traffic volume of 201,490 million passenger-kilometres, representing an increase of 10.0% from the same period last year; and carried 121.2 million passengers, representing an increase of 9.4% from the same period last year.

Safe Operation

The Group ultimately prioritizes safety work and highly values safe operation and the stability of maintaining safety situation. Through the use of scientific control of the total number of flights, the Group can actively grasp the initiative of safety works. The Group was able to recognise major operational risks by conducting scientific researches, formulated specific management and control measures, focused on enhancing the prevention of safety risks, continuously optimized the management mechanism of safety performance, implemented safety responsibilities at all levels, effectively increased the capability of safety management, earnestly implemented the requirements for

Focus on the Local Communities, Lay the Foundation and Train the Basic Skills as established by the Civil Aviation Administration of China (CAAC), and continuously carried out the establishment of work style.

In 2018, the Group's fleet had 2,206,000 safe flying hours in total, which have increased by 6.6% over the same period last year. The Group's fleet had 930,100 take-off and landing flights, which have increased by 6.0% over the same period last year.

Hub Network

The Group's strategy was to focus on the hub network, optimized the route network layout and operating efforts, with an emphasis on enhancing the Group's market share and influence in the core market. In 2018, the Group's market share (in terms of passenger throughput) in hubs such as Shanghai, Beijing and Kunming increased by 0.6, 0.4 and 0.8 percentage points, respectively, while the Group's market share in Xi'an remained the same year-on-year. Through the optimisation of transit connection, the effect of hub network has gradually appeared, OD (Origin and Destination) yield of the three major hubs, namely Shanghai Pudong, Kunming and Xi'an, increased by 9.2%, 11.5% and 12.7%, respectively. The Group focused on the national strategy of Yangtze River Delta Integration, aiming at building a core hub in Shanghai and serving the coordinated development of the regional economy. In 2018, the Group introduced new international routes such as Shanghai-Stockholm, Shanghai-London Gatwick, and Shanghai-Dubai, and arranged more flights for domestic and regional routes such as Shanghai-Chengdu, Shanghai-Guangzhou and Shanghai-Macau. Surrounding the integration strategy of Beijing-Tianjin-Hebei, the Group strengthened the network planning research of Beijing's new hub route and fully promoted the construction and operation of the Beijing Daxing International Airport CEA Base project. With the national Belt and Road Initiative, the Group has operated 131 routes along the countries along the belt and built the Aerial Silk Road.

Analysis of the changes in items under operating costs of the Group is set out as follows:

Aircraft fuel costs accounted for the most substantial part of the Group's operating expenses. In 2018, the Group's total aircraft fuel cost was RMB33,680 million, representing an increase of 34.02% from last year, mainly due to an increase in the volume of refueling of 7.28% from last year for the Group, leading to an increase in aircraft fuel costs by RMB1,829 million. The average price of fuel increased by 24.93% from last year, with the aircraft fuel costs increased by RMB6,720 million.

In 2018, the Group's take-off and landing charges amounted to RMB14,914 million, representing an increase of 12.52% from last year, and was primarily due to the increase in the number of take-offs and landings of the Group, the Group increased the frequency of various international long-haul routes such as Europe, the United States and Australia, and the adjustment of pricing standards of China's airports since April 2017 in accordance with the Circular on Printing and Distributing Plan for Adjusting Charge Standards of Civil Airports (CAAC 2017 Notice No.18), resulting in a rise in domestic as well as international take-off and landing charges.

In 2018, the Group's depreciation and amortisation amounted to RMB15,313 million, representing an increase of 9.62% from last year, and was primarily due to the increase in aircraft and engines (self-owned and under finance leases) added to the Group's fleet in 2018, leading to an increase in the original value of fixed assets and a corresponding increase in depreciation.

In 2018, the Group's wages, salaries and benefits amounted to RMB22,134 million, representing an increase of 8.93% from last year, and was primarily due to the combined effect of the increase in the number of aircrew and, the increase in flight hours and the rise in the standard flight hour fees.

In 2018, the Group's aircraft maintenance expenses amounted to RMB3,738 million, representing a decrease of 30.08% from last year, and was primarily due to the decrease in the number of engines sent for maintenance in 2018, while there were A330 aircraft retired in 2017.

In 2018, the Group's research and development expenses amounted to RMB135 million, representing an increase of 46.74% from last year, and was primarily due to the increase of research and development projects.

In 2018, the Group's catering supply expenses amounted to RMB3,383 million, representing an increase of 9.48% from last year, and was primarily due to the increase in the number of passengers in carriage and the rise in the standards required for the provision of catering.

In 2018, the Group's other operating lease rentals amounted to RMB928 million, representing a decrease of 11.00% from last year, and was primarily due to the expansion of the scale of Group, leading to an increase in the rentals for office premises and VIP rooms.

In 2018, the Group's selling and marketing expenses amounted to RMB3,807 million, representing an increase of 15.57% from last year, and was primarily due to the increase in the Group's business volume followed by an increase in sales expenses.

In 2018, the Group's ground service and other expenses amounted to RMB2,845 million, representing a decrease of 12.41% from last year, and was primarily due to the decrease in the cost of subsidiaries for ancillary businesses.

In 2018, the Group's indirect operating expenses amounted to RMB5,217 million, representing an increase of 7.86% from last year, which was primarily due to the expansion of fleet scale of the Group, which led to a corresponding increase in relevant expenses.

Other operating income and gains

In 2018, the Group's other operating income amounted to RMB6,592 million, representing a decrease of 11.88% from last year, primarily due to the gains from transfer of 100% equity interests in Eastern Air Logistics Co., Limited by the Group in 2017 while there was no such gain in 2018. Further, the Group achieved gains from the disposal of fixed assets and the revenue of co-operation routes.

Finance Income/Costs

In 2018, the Group's finance income was RMB110 million, representing a decrease of 94.79% from the same period last year. Finance costs amounted to RMB5,767 million, representing an increase of 81.12% from the same period last year, primarily due to the RMB2,001 million net exchange gains arose from the appreciation of Renminbi in 2017, while there was net exchange losses amounted to RMB2,040 million arose from the depreciation of Renminbi in 2018.

Profit

Net profit attributable to equity holders of the Company in 2018 was RMB2,698 million, representing a decrease of 57.46% from the same period last year. The earnings per share attributable to the equity holders of the Company were RMB0.19.

Liquidity and Capital Structure

As at 31 December 2018, the Group had total assets of RMB239,017 million, representing an increase of 4.04% from 31 December 2017. Its debt ratio was 74.23%, representing a 0.19 percentage point decrease from 31 December 2017.

In particular, the Group's total current assets amounted to RMB15,932 million, accounted for 6.67% of the total assets and represented a decrease of 12.91% from 31 December 2017. The Group's non-current assets amounted to RMB223,085 million, accounted for 93.33% of the total assets and represented an increase of 5.51% from 31 December 2017.

As at 31 December 2018, the Group had total liabilities of RMB177,416 million, comprising current liabilities of RMB73,064 million which accounted for 41.18% of total liabilities, and non-current liabilities of RMB104,352 million which accounted for 58.82% of total liabilities.

Among the current liabilities, interest-bearing liabilities (short-term bank borrowings, super short-term debentures, long-term bank borrowings due within one year, bonds payable due within one year and obligations under finance leases due within one year) amounted to RMB38,629 million, representing a decrease of 20.07% from 31 December 2017.

Among the non-current liabilities, interest-bearing liabilities (long-term bank borrowings, bonds payable and obligations under finance leases) amounted to RMB93,950 million, representing an increase of 14.10% from 31 December 2017.

In 2018, the Group proactively adjusted the structure of its foreign currency obligations by substantially reducing its USD-denominated obligations in response to exchange fluctuations in order to lower its exchange rate risk. As at 31 December 2018, the breakdown of the Group's interest-bearing obligations by currencies is as follows:

Unit: RMB million

Currency	RMB equivalent As at 31 December 2018		As at 31 December 2017		Movement
	Amount	Percentage	Amount	Percentage
USD	28,515	21.51	36,809	28.17	-22.53
RMB	92,497	69.77	83,880	64.19	10.27
Others	11,567	8.72	9,980	7.64	15.90
Total	132,579	100	130,669	100	1.46

As at 31 December 2018, the Group's interest-bearing liabilities included long-term and short-term bank borrowings, bonds payable and super short-term debentures equivalent to RMB55,152 million, representing a decrease of 13.56% from RMB63,801 million as at 31 December 2017. The breakdown by currencies is as follows:

Unit: RMB million

Currency	RMB equivalent		Movement (%)
	2018	2017
USD	3,139	7,555	-58.45
SGD	2,503	2,435	2.79
EUR	3,566	4,921	-27.54
KRW	1,072	1,058	1.32
RMB	41,778	47,832	-12.66
JPY	3,094
Total	55,152	63,801	-13.56

As at 31 December 2018, the Group's interest-bearing liabilities included obligations under finance leases equivalent to RMB77,427 million, representing an increase of 15.79% from RMB66,868 million as at 31 December 2017. The Group's obligations under finance leases were mostly based on floating rate. The breakdown by currencies is as follows:

Currency	Unit: RMB million
	RMB equivalent 2018	2017	Movement (%)
USD	25,376	29,254	-13.26
SGD	514	627	-18.02
JPY	226	264	-14.39

RMB	50,719	36,048	40.70
Total	77,427	66,868	15.79

Interest Rate Fluctuation

The Group's total interest-bearing liabilities (including long-term and short-term bank borrowings, finance leases payables, bonds payable and super short-term debentures) as at 31 December 2017 and 31 December 2018 were equivalent to RMB130,669 million and RMB132,579 million, respectively, of which short-term liabilities accounted for 36.99% and 29.14%, respectively. Most of the long-term interest-bearing liabilities were liabilities with floating interest rates. Both the short-term liabilities and long-term interest-bearing liabilities were affected by fluctuations in current market interest rates.

The Group's interest-bearing liabilities were primarily denominated in USD and RMB. As at 31 December 2017 and 31 December 2018, the Group's interest-bearing liabilities denominated in USD accounted for 28.17% and 21.51%, respectively, of total liabilities while liabilities denominated in RMB accounted for 64.19% and 69.77%, respectively, of total interest-bearing liabilities. Fluctuations in the USD and RMB interest rates have and will continue to have significant impact on the Group's finance costs. As at 31 December 2017, the outstanding foreign currency interest rate swap contracts held by the Group amounted to a notional principal amount of approximately USD1,420 million, of which USD1,102 million as at 31 December 2018 will expire between 2019 and 2025.

Exchange Rate Fluctuation

As at 31 December 2018, the Group's total interest-bearing liabilities denominated in foreign currencies amounted to RMB40,082 million, of which USD liabilities accounted for 71.14% of the liabilities. Therefore, a significant fluctuation in the exchange rates will subject the Group to significant foreign exchange loss or gain arising from the exchange of foreign currency denominated liabilities, which affects the profitability and development of the Group. The Group typically uses hedging contracts for foreign currencies to reduce the foreign exchange risks for capital expenditures paid in foreign currencies. As at 31 December 2017, the outstanding foreign currency hedging contracts held by the Group amounted to a notional principal amount of USD829 million, of which USD655 million as at 31 December 2018 will expire in 2019.

In 2017, the Group's net exchange gain amounted to RMB2,001 million. In 2018, the Group's net exchange loss amounted to RMB2,040 million, representing a decrease of 201.95% from last year.

Pledges on Assets and Contingent Liabilities

The Group generally finances its purchase of aircraft through finance leases and bank loans secured by its assets. As at 31 December 2017, the value of the Group's assets used to secure certain bank loans was RMB11,207 million. As at 31 December 2018, the value of the Group's assets used to secure certain bank loans was RMB11,752 million, representing a year-on-year increase of 4.86%.

As at 31 December 2018, the Group had no significant contingent liabilities.

Capital Expenditure

According to the agreements that have been entered into in relation to aircraft and engines, as at 31 December 2018, the Group expected its future capital expenditures on aircraft and engines to be approximately RMB70,998 million in total, including the expected capital expenditure in 2019 being approximately RMB29,187 million.

In 2019, the Group plans to finance through a combination of income from operations, existing bank credit facilities, bank loans, leasing arrangements and other external financing arrangements in order to ensure smooth operation of the Group.

Human Resources

As at 31 December 2018, the Group has 77,005 employees, the majority of whom were located in China. The wages of the Group's employees primarily consisted of basic salaries and performance bonuses.

RISK ANALYSIS

1. Macro-economic Risk

The aviation transportation industry is closely connected to the macro-economic environment. The civil aviation transportation industry is more sensitive to the macro-economic climate, which directly affects the development of economic activities, disposable income of residents and changes in the amount of import and export activities. These factors will in turn affect the demand for passenger and cargo services. Meanwhile, the scale of the international airline transportation operations of the Group is relatively large, the international macro-economic situation will also affect the demand for the Group's passenger and cargo services. If there is a decline in macro-economic climate, instability in political situation of the world's major economies or intensification of trade protectionism and unilateralism, the Group's results on operations and financial condition may be adversely affected.

The Group paid close attention to the changes in international and national macro-economic conditions and proactively capitalized on the opportunities derived from the Belt and Road Initiative promoted by the State, the construction of Xiongan New District, the Yangtze River Delta Integration strategy, economic restructuring, upgrade of consumption level of residents, development of tourism economy and the newly constructed airport in Beijing to optimize allocation of flight capacity, production structure and marketing and sales, in order to achieve favorable results of operations.

2. Policy and Regulation Risk

The aviation transportation industry is relatively sensitive to policies and regulations. Changes in domestic and foreign economic environment and the continuous development of the aviation industry could result in the relevant laws and regulations and industry policies being adjusted accordingly. Such changes may, to a certain extent, result in uncertainties in the future business development and operating results of the Group.

With respect to industrial policies and regulations, the Group played an active role in various discussions concerning formulation and refinement, and considered the latest changes so as to seize the development opportunities arising from such updates and prudently respond to the uncertainties arising from the changes in policies and regulations.

3. Operational Safety Risk

Operational safety is the pre-condition and foundation for airlines to maintain normal operations and good reputation. Bad weather, mechanical failure, human errors, aircraft and equipment irregularities or failures and other force majeure events may have an adverse effect on the operational safety of the Group.

The Group regularly convened safety meetings, analyzed and reported on the Group's flight status in a timely manner and planned for safety management. Through strengthening safety responsibilities and commenced effective evaluation on safety management system, the Group established effective measures such as the comprehensive flight training control mechanism to enhance its capabilities of preventing flight safety risks and to ensure the Group continuously operates safely.

4. Terrorist Attack Risk

International terrorist attacks targeting aircraft and airport not only directly threatens flight safety, aviation security, operational safety and the safety of overseas institutions and employees, but also brings about on-going adverse impact on the outbound tourism demand for places where terrorist attacks have taken place.

The Group strictly adhered to the requirements of aviation security of CAAC by amending the Aviation Security Plan to improve the Group's aviation security system. With reference to the typical cases regarding aviation security in recent years, the Group commenced simulation trainings and anti-terrorism practices on flight, with a view to enhancing the Group's aviation security team's ability to perform their duties and their service quality, which would in turn improve their responsiveness in handling emergencies. The launch of the electronic information platform of the aviation security system initiated the establishment of the aviation security information system, which enhanced the quality of aviation security information.

Taking reference from terror cases in recent years, the Group carried out fire drills and provided scenario trainings and specific trainings for weapons and firearms onboard, with a view to enhancing the aviation security team's ability to perform their duties and their service quality, which would in turn improve their responsiveness in handling emergencies. In the future, the Group will combine aviation security and safety audit, introduce aviation security assessment standards on routes, establish the communication link mechanism on the basis of the aviation security communication system and put spotlight on the primarily-focused regional routes for the formulation of specific aviation security proposals.

In light of the possible reduced demand for passenger transportation induced by the domestic and overseas terrorist attacks, the Group will rely on the dynamic marketing analysis mechanism so as to study, optimize and adjust the flight capacity of the relevant routes in a timely manner.

5. Core Resources Risk

The rapid growth in the industry has caused competition among airlines for core human resources (such as management personnel in key positions and professional technical staff), air traffic rights resources and time slot resources. Along with the rapid growth of the Group's operational scale, the expansion of core resources reserves of the Group and improvement of core resources utilization of the Group will face challenges, and the business and operations of the Group may be adversely affected.

The Group promoted the building of corporate culture of "Love at CEA" and further improved its incentive scheme for core technical staff to promote loyalty of core personnel. The Group proactively developed a core back-up workforce through providing training programs to a pool of multi-tier back-up management personnel and launching of core technical staff recruitment plan. Meanwhile, the Group proactively coordinated with the industry regulators with respect to air traffic rights and time slot resources, by actively initiating the application of international air traffic rights, and proactively participating in the market competition for time slot resources. In the future, as a main airline base, the Group will further seize the opportunities of the commencement of operation of the new airport in Beijing and make use of the SkyTeam Airline Alliance platform to continuously enrich and optimize route networks.

6. Competition Risk

With the liberalisation of the domestic aviation market, development of low-cost airlines and the leading international airlines' increasing addition of flight capacity in the China market, future competition in the domestic and overseas aviation transportation industries may intensify and may bring uncertainties to the Group's resources of air traffic rights and time slots, ticket price levels and market shares, and the results of operations of the Group may be adversely affected accordingly.

There is a certain level of overlap between the use of railway transportation, highway transportation, ship transportation and air transportation in certain markets. As the impact from railway, highway and ship transportation on the domestic civil aviation market has become normalised and internet-based, certain routes of the Group will experience larger competitive pressure.

The Group actively responded to the industry competition, strove for additions of air traffic rights and time slot resources in hub markets and core markets and consolidated and expanded market share in the large hubs and core markets. Leveraging on the SkyTeam Airline Alliance platform, the Group enhanced its strategic cooperation with Delta and AFK, and strengthened the cooperation with non-member airlines of the SkyTeam Airline Alliance such as Qantas Airways Limited and Japan Airlines Co., Ltd. to develop a highly efficient and convenient flight network which covered the whole of China and connected to the whole world.

Under the impact of other means of transportation, the Group focused on the large hubs and core and key markets, refined its route network and reinforced complete access to the network and the sale of international interline transit products. Meanwhile, the Group has put in great efforts into improving its punctuality rate and capitalized on the speed advantage of aviation transportation.

7. Risk Associated with the Fluctuation of Jet Fuel Prices

Jet fuel is one of the major expenses of airlines. Significant fluctuations of international oil prices will significantly impact jet fuel prices and the Group's revenue from fuel surcharge and accordingly, the Group's results of operations.

In 2018, setting aside the adjustment in factors such as fuel surcharge, if the average price of jet fuel had increased or decreased by 5%, jet fuel costs of the Group would have increased or decreased by approximately RMB1,684 million. In 2018, the Group has not conducted aviation fuel hedging activities.

In 2018, the Group seized the opportunities arising from the relatively low international fuel prices, actively boosted its flight capacity and optimized the production structure. As a result, the Group achieved favorable results of operations. The Group will actively analyze the trend of oil prices and, with mandates from the Board, carefully conduct aviation fuel hedging activities.

8. Exchange Rate Fluctuation Risk

As the Group's foreign currency liabilities are mainly USD-denominated, if the exchange rate of USD against RMB fluctuates significantly, USD-denominated liabilities will therefore generate a large amount of foreign exchange loss/gain, which directly affects the Group's profit for that period and causes larger impact on the Group's operating results.

As at 31 December 2018, if USD had strengthened or weakened by 1% against RMB with all other variables held constant, the effect on the Group's net profit and other comprehensive income would have been as follows:

	Unit: RMB million
	Effect on net profit		Effect on other comprehensive income
	Appreciation	Depreciation	Appreciation	Depreciation
USD exchange rates	-178	178	34	-34

In 2018, the Group expanded its financing channels by means of issuing super short-term debentures and acquiring RMB borrowings to bring in RMB financing, and proactively optimized the mix of currency denomination of the Group's debts. As at 31 December 2018, the proportion of USD-denominated debts to total debts of the Group decreased to 21.51%.

In the future, the Group will further reinforce its analysis on the foreign exchange market, expand the variety of its RMB financing instruments and improve the Group's debts and currency structure in order to minimize the adverse impacts arising from exchange rate fluctuations on the Group's operations.

9. Interest Rate Fluctuation Risk

The majority of the Group's liabilities are attributable to USD-denominated liabilities and RMB-denominated liabilities generated from introduction of aircraft, engines and aviation equipment. The adjustment in interest rates of USD and RMB may cause changes in the borrowing costs of the Group's existing loans that carry floating interest rates, as well as future finance costs, which in turn may affect the Group's finance costs.

As at 31 December 2018, assuming all other variables remain constant, if the interest rate had increased or decreased by 25 basis points, the effect on the Group's net profit and other comprehensive income would have been as follows:

	Unit: RMB million
	Effect on net profit		Effect on other comprehensive income
	Appreciation	Depreciation	Appreciation	Depreciation
Floating rate instruments	-112	112	14	-14

The Group intends to launch transactions in derivatives to further optimise the proportion of floating-rate debts to the USD-denominated debts in the future. At the same time, the Group will make good use of the trend of the RMB interest rate to minimise RMB finance costs.

10. Information Technology Safety Risk

The development of all businesses in the Group's operational process is closely related to the information network system which imposes new requirements on traditional management and work processes of the Group. If there are any design discrepancies, operational default or interruption in the network information system of the Group, or if it experiences external network attacks, the Group's business and operations may be affected or result in leakage of customers' data. The occurrence of any of the foregoing may have an adverse effect on the brand image of the Group. Future upgrades of information technology that are required will challenge the reliability of the Group's existing systems.

The Group based on the "Three Centers in Two Places" plan to promote its work on the construction of the Xi'an data and disaster backup facility and the construction of a globalized basic assurance and service system. It optimized the multi-dimensional security protection system on the internet and the data centre to prevent various ransomware attacks effectively. The Group conducted information system emergency response training and relied on security code quality analysis to implement security code review and security protection. It also commenced security review for information system and enhanced emergency response of internet security, optimized the multi-dimensional security protection system on the internet and the data centre and safeguarded the security of key information infrastructure, elevating the overall security protection standard on the Group's information system. The Group has appointed a data protection officer to improve data security management and protection mechanism and enhance the ability to encrypt, decrypt, protect and trace sensitive information of passengers.

11. Development and Transformation Risk

While the Group expands to new international markets, carries out external investments, mergers and acquisitions and adjusts the structure of its existing businesses and assets, it may face risks including business decision making, laws, management and competition risks which may affect the results of implementing the development strategies of the Group.

During the process of transformation, the Group explores the e-commerce market to reduce aviation operation costs and innovative asset management methods, and adjusts the structure of its existing businesses and assets, with new requirements for the overall operating management abilities of the Group. Some of the Group's transforming projects or adjusted businesses may be unable to achieve expected goals.

The Group has been making improvements to the foreign investment management system and will enhance the research and substantiation of projects and refine the risk management mechanism through conducting due diligence and asset valuation during the process of expansion into the new international markets, external investment and acquisition and mergers, and adjustments to the structure of its existing businesses and assets.

12. Suppliers Risk

The aviation transportation industry requires advanced technology and high operating costs. There are limited available suppliers in respect of key operating resources including aircraft, engines, flight spare parts, jet fuel and information technology services. Airlines generally obtain operating resources through centralized purchases to reduce operating costs. If the Group's major suppliers are adversely affected, this may have an adverse impact on the business and operations of the Group.

The Group has been focusing on the suppliers who are closely related to the Group's production and operation, while the supplier management team analyzed the contractual performance of suppliers and conducted assessment on suppliers regularly. The Group paid close attention to the changing market conditions of the types of material highly relevant to its production and operation, whereas the collection and analysis of the fluctuations in price was conducted by the Group's procurement department.

13. Securities Market Fluctuations Risks

The Company's share price is not only dependent on its current results and projection for future operations, but also on factors including policy environment, macro-economy, flow of market capital and investor sentiment etc. The Company's share price may be subject to significant changes due to the aforementioned factors, which may directly or indirectly result in loss to the investors, which in turn will reduce the travel demand from business travelers and affect the Group's capital operations and implementation of projects.

The Group continued to enhance its corporate governance standards, fulfill its obligations of information disclosure, improve its management ability and strive for outstanding operating results. In the meantime, the Group strengthened the communication between the capital markets and various investors, paid close attention to the Company's share price performance and media coverage, gave timely response to the market and made every effort to avoid unusual price movement of the shares of the Company.

14. Other Force Majeure and Unforeseeable Risks

The aviation transportation industry is highly sensitive to external factors. Natural disasters, public health emergencies and geopolitical instability around the globe may affect market demand and the normal operation of airlines. Flight suspension, decrease in passenger capacity and income, as well as increased safety and insurance costs may adversely affect the business and operations of the Group.

The Group strove to develop and refine its emergency response mechanism and emergency response plan in order to mitigate the adverse impacts arising from other force majeure and unforeseeable risks.

COMPLIANCE WITH THE RELEVANT LAWS AND REGULATIONS WHICH MAY HAVE A SIGNIFICANT IMPACT ON THE GROUP

During the Year, the Board was not aware of any significant matters which may cause impact on the Group or any non-compliance with the laws and regulations which may have a significant impact on the Group.

OUTLOOK FOR 2019

The Group would like to bring to the attention of readers of this report that this report contains certain forward-looking statements, including a general outlook of international and domestic economies and the aviation industry, and descriptions of the Group's future operating plans for 2019 and beyond. Such forward-looking statements are subject to many uncertainties and risks. The actual events that occur may be different from forward-looking statements of the Group which, therefore, do not constitute any commitment by the Group to the future operating results.

Looking forward to 2019, with the complex and severe external environment, uncertainties keep looming. The motive for the growth of global economy has been weakened, while the positive trend of domestic economy remains unchanged yet the pressure of economic downturn still prevails. China's civil aviation industry is expected to continue to maintain a relatively fast pace for development, but domestic and international macro-economic situation and changes in trade relations, oil prices and exchange rate fluctuations will bring uncertainties to the development of the industry.

The Group will proactively respond to the strategies of the State, grasping the coordinated development of Beijing-Tianjin-Hebei, the Yangtze River Delta Integration strategy, the construction of Guangdong-Hong Kong-Macao Greater Bay Area, and the official operation of the Beijing Daxing International Airport. Meanwhile, the Group will also adhere to the general direction of steady progress and the concept for new development, uphold its confidence, face challenges, be determined and innovative, work hard, be practical, and strive to promote new breakthroughs in the reform, development stability of the Group. In 2019, the Group will focus on the following tasks:

1. The Group will continuously pay attention to safety operations and strengthen safety management. The Company will strengthen the construction of the "Three Basics" (focus on the local communities, lay the foundation and train basic skills) and strive to establish governance, capability and culture in the area of safe production, enhance risk prevention and control in important areas and key aspects for the sound operation of new aircraft models, new airports and new routes, strengthen the use of technological means and process control to continuously improve safety standards and management levels, and strengthen the implementation of safety responsibilities to ensure that the security situation continues to be stable and favourable.
2. The Group will analyze and evaluate the market situation scientifically and continuously improve marketing capabilities. The Group will actively strive to acquire additional time-slot resources in key markets, optimize the launch of new capacity, improve the competitiveness in the hub market; strengthen market forecasting and freight rate control, expand the scope of cooperation with global partners, improve the revenue quality of international routes; grasp the opportunities of Japan and South Korea routes to build a route network for Japan and South Korea around the Bohai Bay; vigorously promote the entire network, strengthen the integration of sales in the Yangtze River Delta market, and improve the revenue of high-class cabins; implement the brand freight rate system, and actively expand ancillary business income such as baggage, upgrades and seat selection with the help of basic economy products.

3. The Group will uphold the belief of providing sincere service and heartwarming services. The Group will vigorously improve the punctuality rate of flights and establish an efficient production command system; improve the multi-level flight irregularity system to provide passengers with a safe waiting experience while optimizing the frequent flyer membership system and service standards, to reflect the value contribution which commensurate with the member services; the Group will optimize online integration services, enrich the functions of the official website and mobile application, and expand the coverage of self-service channel functions.
4. The Group will comprehensively deepen reform and transformation and foster the construction of major projects; continue to develop the CEA wallet function, and expand the application of reward points, speed up the transformation of income system points; optimize the integrated services, to integrate more value-added products on the official website and mobile application. In relation to low-cost airline, China United Airlines seeks to increase income from ancillary business, reinforce and enhance the edges of low-cost, and creating flight route layout where coordinated development of full aviation services can be achieved. For major projects, the Group will actively seize the development opportunities of the Beijing Daxing International Airport, ensure that the construction of the airport will be proceeded on schedule and be put into operation according to plan. The Company will steadily promote the non-public offering of its shares, and strengthen and intensify the business cooperation with Juneyao Airlines and Juneyao Group in various fields.
5. The Group will speed up the efficiency of capital operation and enhance the accuracy and planning of income and expenses forecast; continuously expand financing channels and optimize financing structure to reduce the Company's gearing ratio; adopt refined management methods to scientifically manage various cost expenditures.
6. The Group will enhance risk prevention awareness, strictly control major risks, optimize debt structure and strengthen financial risk monitoring; strengthen the protection of passenger information and prevent the security risks of information systems; strengthen compliance management and reinforce overseas legal risk management and control; effectively conduct comprehensive risk management assessment and conduct special audits for major areas and major risks.

SIGNIFICANT EVENTS

1. Dividends

On 29 March 2019, the Board considered and approved the 2018 annual profit distribution proposal. According to the relevant requirements of the Measures for the Administration of Securities Issuance and Underwriting of the CSRC, for issue securities by a listed company, in the event that any profit distribution proposal or proposal of conversion of the reserve into the share capital has not been submitted to its general meeting for voting or has been approved by the general meeting but has not yet been implemented, the issuance of securities shall proceed after such proposal has been implemented. As the proposed non-public issuance of A shares of the Company is now under review by the CSRC and the project is strategically important to the Company, in order to guarantee the smooth progress of the proposed non-public issuance project, the Company intended not to proceed with cash dividend distribution or conversion of capital reserve into share capital for the year 2018, after comprehensively taking into account of the long-term development of the Company and the interests of all of its shareholders. The retained profits will be used to supplement the Company's daily working capital, to fulfil the Company's main business development needs.

The Company has, for the years in 2016 and 2017, consecutively implemented profit distribution proposals to return to its investors. The accumulated profit distribution for the years in 2016, 2017 and 2018 amounted to RMB1,446.76 million, which has exceeded the requirement provided in the Articles, the accumulated profit distribution made in cash by the Company in the latest three years shall not be less than 30% of the average annual distributable profit attributable to the owners of the parent company in the consolidated statements in the latest three years.

The independent non-executive Directors are of the view that the aforesaid 2018 annual profit distribution proposal of the Board has comprehensively considered the significance of the Company's proposed non-public offering of shares, taking into account of the Company's long-term development and the interests of all of its shareholders. The Board has performed the voting procedures for the matter in accordance with the requirements of relevant laws and regulations and considered that there is no circumstance detrimental to the interests of the Company's shareholders, especially to the minority shareholders of the Company. Meanwhile, it would help the Company to ensure smooth implementation of its major capital projects, facilitate the healthy and sustainable development of the Company.

The aforesaid profit distribution proposal is subject to consideration and approval by the shareholders at the 2018 general meeting of the Company.

2. Purchase, Sale or Redemption of Securities

During the financial year of 2018, neither the Company nor its subsidiaries purchased, sold or redeemed any of its listed securities (securities , having the meaning ascribed thereto under Section 1 of Appendix 16 to the Listing Rules).

3. Material Litigation

As at 31 December 2018, the Group was not involved in any material litigation, arbitration or claim.

4. Corporate Governance

The Board has reviewed the relevant provisions and corporate governance practices under the codes of corporate governance adopted by the Company, and is of the view that the Company's corporate governance practices as at the year ended 31 December 2018 met the requirements under the code provisions in the Corporate Governance Code set out in Appendix 14 of the Listing Rules (the Code).

Pursuant to the latest regulations promulgated by the CSRC, the Shanghai Stock Exchange, Hong Kong Stock Exchange and in line with the Company's development needs, the Company comprehensively reviewed the relevant regulations regarding the Board and securities affairs, revised the articles of association, rules for the board meetings, rules for procedures for general meetings and the provision of external guarantees policy of the Company etc., to effectively safeguard the standardised operation of the Company.

To further strengthen the awareness of compliance among the directors, supervisors and senior management of the Company, and to enhance their understanding and application of the relevant rules, the Company has comprehensively reviewed and implemented written monitoring rules for listed companies promulgated by regulatory bodies including the CSRC, the Shanghai Stock Exchange, Hong Kong Stock Exchange and the New York Stock Exchange, as well as the latest development of the relevant laws, rules and regulations regarding the duties and responsibilities of directors, supervisors and senior management of a listed company, and arranged training and learning sessions.

During the year ended 31 December 2018, the Company has adopted the Model Code for Securities Transactions by Directors of Listed Issuers (the Model Code) as set out in Appendix 10 to the Listing Rules as the securities transactions code for the Directors. Having made specific enquiries to all the Directors, it is the Company's understanding that the Directors have complied with the requirements as set forth in the Model Code regarding Directors' securities transactions.

5. Audit and Risk Management Committee

The Audit and Risk Management Committee has reviewed with the management of the Company the accounting principles and methods adopted by the Company, and has discussed with the Board the internal controls and financial reporting issues, including a review of the consolidated results for the year ended 31 December 2018 prepared in accordance with IFRSs.
